NAVIES MANOEUVRE AS NEUTRAL NATIONS REINFORCE DEFENCES

Counter Measures Taken in Answer to Italian Fleet's Spring Manoeuvres—Peoples of Southeastern Europe Move to Stamp Out Nazi Influences Within Their Borders

BUCHAREST, April 17 (AP).—Warships of five powers manoeuvred under secret orders within striking distance of the Dardanelles tonight as the small neutral nations of Southeastern Europe reinforced their defences and moved to stamp out Nazi influences within their borders.

The Turks hold the Dardanelles Straits, focal point of the naval activity spreading through the Aegean and Black Seas. The neutrals fear this activity may foreshadow the spread of the war.

Allied naval units off the Greek coast were reported to have taken "counter measures" after the Italian fleet assembled in the Aegean for what Italy has called "customary Spring manœuvres." Nature of the counter measures was not disclosed.

Led by the battle cruiser Yavuz, a part of the Turkish fleet took up positions in the Sea of Marmora, near Gallipoli, where, in the last war, the Turks broke a great British assault.

MINING BLACK SEA

Neutral shipping men reported the Russian navy already had laid hundreds of mines and was busy laying more in the Black Sea, off Odessa and Batum.

Newspapers in Balkan countries headlined dispatches asserting that "Italy's hour for decision is near." German quarters in Bucharest openly said that Italy is prepared to enter the war on the side of Germany.

Informed sources consider Rumania the most endangered of the Balkan neutrals because of her great petroleum and agricultural resources. These quarters said Rumania is on the verge of aligning

HITLER SEEKS TO END EMPIRE

Former Envoy Says German Leader's Single Aim Is to Break Up Commonwealth

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Hitler's single idea is to break up the British Empire, Sir Nevile Henderson, former ambassador at Berlin, said today.

"If I know Hitler at all," he said at a literary luncheon at Grosvenor House, "and his combination of megalomania and resentment, he has today but on consuming idea—it is not only the defeat of Britain, but the complete disruption of the British Empire as well."

"If we had not gone to war when we did, we would have betrayed our own idealism and European civilization."

SUPPORTS LORD HALIFAX

Sir Nevile called "profoundly true" a statement of Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax that the real conflict is "between youth and youth."

"The most fanatical of Hitler's supporters," Sir Nevile said, "are to be found among German youth, hypnotized as they have been for the last seven years by Nazi doctrines of politics and racial superiority, taught as they have been to disregard all Christian, moral and intellectual values and submit their souls and bodies to almost idolatrous worship of their leader."

BATTLESHIP SEEN ASHORE IN CREEK

Scharnhorst Sighted With Stern Under Water Near Trondhjem—Cruiser Also Aground

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Reuter's News Agency reported tonight in a dispatch from Stockholm that the 26,000-ton German battleship Scharnhorst had been sighted aground in Rissa Creek near Trondhjem.

The Reuter's dispatche said that a trustworthy person who recently arrived in the Swedish capital from Norway said he had seen the German battleship near Trondhjem, with her stern under water.

A German cruiser also was reported aground in Trondhjem Harbor and three Nazi destroyers were said to be in port there.

ASKS STAND OF ITALIANS

British Minister Says Italy Should Behave as Neutral If Neutral

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Ronald Cross, Minister of Economic Warfare, tonight called attention to the "hostile" tone of the Italian press, and declared in a speech at Sheffield that if Italy wishes to be treated as a neutral, she should behave as one.

The forty-three-year-old minister, who directs the blockade of Germany, expressed the opinion that Germany might attack Sweden within the next month to obtain her sources of iron ore. He urged the Swedes not to be taken by surprise, adding: "We are ready to help her, but she must be ready to help herself."

REGARDED AS SIGNIFICANT

His references to Italy were regarded in London as particularly significant because of the anti-British tone of the Italian press this week. He described this tone as "hostile."

"That makes us reflect upon the attitude of Italy toward us," Mr. Cross said. "We have no quarrel with Italy. We have every wish to be friends. But we are a plain-dealing and plain-speaking people. We should like to know where we stand with Italy."

London has looked with concern upon Rome during the last few days and the minister's speech may have diplomatic repercussions. Britain has been anxious to determine whether the tone of the Italian press reflected the viewpoint of Pre-

LEADING BRITISH HISTORIAN DEAD

Rt. Hon. H. A. L. Fisher Dies From Injuries Received When Struck by Truck

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Rt. Hon. H. A. L. Fisher, O.M., seventy-five, one of England's outstanding historians and president of the Board of Education from 1916 to 1922, died tonight from injuries suffered a week ago when he was struck by a truck.

A distinguished educationist and public servant, he had been warden of New College, Oxford, since 1925.

Mr. Fisher was on his way to preside at a tribunal hearing appeals of conscientious objectors against serving in the war when he was injured.

Among the many posts he held was that of member of Britain's delegation to the League of Nations' Assembly, 1920-22. From 1935 to 1939 he served as a governor of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Greets Royal 22nd From Quebec

The Royal 22nd Regiment from Quebec received a special greeting from General Gamelin when the Allied commander-in-chief visited Aldershot recently. "Our hearts beat as one," he told the French-speaking troops. Yesterday a detachment from the regiment took over guard duties at Buckingham and St. James' Palaces.

Bluecher Sinking Described by Nazi Prisoner of War

Captive in Norway Says German Soldiers Were Astounded When Shore Batteries Opened Fire On Cruiser—Had Been Told They Were Going to Aid Norway Against British

By ROBERT RIEFFEL
Havas Staff Writer

STROEMSTAD, Sweden, April 17 (CP-Havas).—German soldiers aboard transports heading for Norway thought they were bound for an invasion of England, a war prisoner captured after the sinking of the 10,000-ton Nazi cruiser Bleucher by Norwegian coastal batteries, told this correspondent today.

Interviewed on Norwegian territory, the prisoner disclosed that the Bluecher sailed for Norway four days before the invasion.

"When we embarked no one knew where we were going," he said. "When we went aboard the Bluecher a few of my comrades said: 'We're heading for Britain.' It was only when we were on the high seas that the officers told us we were going to Norway and that we would reach Oslo at daybreak."

TO PROTECT NORWAY

He said that troops were told that "the Norwegian people had called the German navy and army to their aid, to protect them from the British threat."

"The night passed quietly," the prisoner said. "Below us we heard

LOOKS FORWARD TO NEW OFFICE

Earl of Athlone Is Wished "Godspeed" by Distinguished Gathering

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—The Earl of Athlone tonight told members of the diplomatic corps and high officers of His Majesty's forces and public servants that he is looking forward with "keenest anticipation" to his tenure of office as Governor-General of Canada.

At the first public function since his appointment, the Earl of Athlone was toasted and wished "godspeed" at a dinner tendered him by the exclusive Marlborough Club.

The ambassadors of Belgium, France, China and Japan, the Canadian High Commissioner, Hon. Vincent Massey; Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, officer commanding the First Division of the Canadian Active Service Force; Major-General H. D. G. Crerar, senior officer of the Canadian military headquarters in London, and their wives, were among a distinguished gathering which came to do honor to one of the club's veteran members.

Lord Clarendon, the chairman, paid tribute to the Earl of Athlone's term of service in South Africa.

"We are overjoyed," he said, "that you should have been honored by this viceregal appointment and sincerely trust your stay in Canada will be marked with as remarkable success as you achieved in South Africa." Lord Athlone was Governor-General of South Africa from 1923 to 1931.

Correspondent Visits Narvik Area—Sees Germans Retreating Southward

By J. HERMAN LODGE

SOMEWHERE NEAR NARVIK, Norway (Via Gellivare, Sweden), April 18 (AP).—British marines, fighting alongside their Norwegian allies, have occupied Narvik, the northern ore port, and a surrounding area, and the Germans are retreating to the south.

With a driver as my guide I made my way afoot to the outskirts of Narvik.

I ascertained the British are occupying Bjorksden, a short distance this side of the Swedish border; Oyjord, Gratanjen, three places to the north and south of Narvik. Elvegaard, Elvegaardsmoen, and Harstad, the British landing point.

The British appeared to be extending their occupation.

GERMANS RETREATING

The Germans, retreating southward, were careful to keep to the west of the Swedish border to avoid internment.

As I left Narvik to attempt a survey of the surrounding towns I was arrested by British troops and turned over to the Norse military authorities.

The Norwegians took me back to Narvik because my visa was not stamped for regular passage over the border, and ordered me to return to the south.

SEES GERMAN PATROLS

During the escorted trip to the border I saw several German patrols in the distance, about five miles from the Swedish line, and also scattered Norwegian troops. But I arrived unmolested at Kiruna, Swedish iron ore mine town.

The Norwegians told me the Germans lost little time in starting their retreat when they heard the British were arriving. But they drove the small Norwegian force before them, engaging in skirmishes now and then.

Trains which formerly ran to Narvik now go only as far as Kiruna.

WILL EXACT REPARATIONS

Great Britain, France and Poland Issue Declaration Condemning Germany

PARIS, April 17 (CP-Havas).—Great Britain, France and the Polish Government in Exile today issued a declaration condemning Germany's conduct of the war in Poland and announcing their determination to exact reparations in behalf of the Polish people.

The declaration was made public simultaneously with a Polish "Black Book" containing photographs and eyewitness accounts of German acts committed during the invasion of Poland.

The declaration stated:

"His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, the French Government and the Polish Gopernment have been deeply moved by the reports they have received on the crimes committed against persons and the damage done to properties by the German authorities and forces of occupation in Poland.

NO ROOM FOR DOUBT

"These reports leave no room for doubt that the German Government which, on September 1, 1939, began the war by a brutal attack on the Polish civilian population in defiance of acknowledged principles of international law, is now applying itself to destroying, not only the lives and properties, but also the civilization and religion of the defenceless Polish population who now find themselves under its control.

"Germany has gone so far as to incorporate in the Reich, in violation of The Hague International Convention, territories of the Polish Republic while the war waged by the three Allied Powers is continuing.

"Mass executions, the most pitilessly barbarous transfer of a population driven from its home, establishment of Germans on Polish

WINS BATTERSEA BY HUGE MARGIN

Canadian-Born Labor Candidate Defeats "Stop the War" Opponent by 9,947 to 791 Ballots

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Francis C. R. Douglas, Labor, Canadian-born solicitor, today won by 9,947 votes to 791 over a "Stop the War" candidate, E. C. Joyce, in the Battersea North by-election.

The Conservative party did not contest the seat under the political truce among the major parties. The vacancy resulted from the retirement from the House of Commons of W. S. Sanders, Labor, who at the last election polled 17,596 votes to 12,393 for Commander Arthur Marsden.

Mr. Joyce a few days ago was repudiated as a candidate by the very union that employs him as a clerk.

Mr. Douglas was born at Wapoka, Man., where his father, a Scot, farmed for twelve years. When he was ten years of age his parents left Canada.

Sweden Clamps Down Restrictions

STOCKHOLM, April 17 (AP).—Sweden clamped down additional restrictions on foreigners today, barring them from all harbor and railway stations, except where necessary in their travels, and from all factories, unless they are employees.

Another order restricted motor travelers to buses. Private automobiles and taxis may not be used, except by Danes, Finns and Norwegians who have been in Sweden since last January 1.

Hull Warns Japanese Against Interference In Dutch East Indies

United States Calls on Other Nations to Respect Status Quo of Netherlands Possessions, Regardless of Events in Europe

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP).—The United States tonight called on other nations, particularly Japan, to respect the status quo of The Netherlands East Indies regardless of what happens to The Netherlands.

Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, issued a formal statement saying:

"Intervention in the domestic affairs of The Netherlands Indies or any alteration of their status quo by other than peaceful processes would be prejudicial to the cause of stability, peace and security not only in the region of The Netherlands Indies but in the entire Pacific area."

Hull's statement was issued in response to a statement by the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs on Monday expressing the concern of the Japanese Government for the maintenance of the status quo of The Netherlands Indies.

WOULD AFFECT MANY

"Any change in the status of The Netherlands Indies would directly affect the interests of many countries," Hull said. He pointed out:

"The Netherlands Indies are very important in the international re-

STAVANGER BADLY BATTERED BY ROYAL NAVY IN DARING RAID

Hundreds of Shells Hurled Into Airport Used as Base for German Aircraft—One British Cruiser Damaged by Bomb—Submarine Thistle Has Been Given Up for Lost

Royal Air Force Rains Bombs On Air Base at Trondhjem

LONDON, April 17 (AP).—The Royal Navy today made a daring attack on Germany's air headquarters at Stavanger, Norway, where naval vessels hurled hundreds of shells into an airport which already is pockmarked by successive Royal Air Force bombing raids.

Lying off the jagged Norwegian coast in the early morning, ships rained shells on the seaside airport for eighty minutes in a determined attempt to destroy it as a base for German fighters and bombers.

An R.A.F. plane was over the airport just before the naval force, of undisclosed strength, opened fire, and assisted the fleet gunnery experts in getting the range.

The pilot said later there was "just a hint of daylight" so he dropped a flare and a number of incendiary bombs on German aircraft.

SEES FIRES START

"Fires resulted," he said. "I could see numerous flashes as soon as the guns opened fire. One Junkers plane challenged the R.A.F. machine, but the British crew "replied so effectively that the Junkers fled."

One of the cruisers which took part in the attack was hit by a German bomb and damaged after the shelling was over. The Admiralty said the ship "is continuing on her course to her base."

This was the second naval vessel announced today as a casualty. The submarine Thistle, sister ship of the Thetis which sank at Liverpool Bay last June 1, and of the Truant which last week torpedoed the German cruiser Karlsruhe, is overdue from

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, April 17 (By Cable).—Oslo succumbed to German and to domestic treachery and not to the invader's arms, says The Times' diplomatic correspondent.

No ultimatum was sent, no declaration of war made, simply armed forces, following the methods of the thug and the burglar, were dispatched to Oslo and as they were landing the Norwegian Government was confronted with demands not to resist, but to allow its country to become a slave of the Nazis.

The ostensible excuse for all this was the obvious lie that the Allies had intended to occupy Narvik and other places in Norway. Helped by the treachery of Quisling and others, the Germans were able to march into Oslo after fighting had been stopped at various points by bewildered or traitorous Norwegian army officers.

An example of the treason comes from a naval station at Horten, on Oslo fjord, where the crew of the Tordens Kjold were ordered to go ashore and disperse in neighboring woods.

Treachery also caused the surrender of Rauer fort on the east side of Oslo fjord. The commander ordered the white flag to be hoisted, saying he had no ammunition. The garrison say they had plenty.

Why German warships got to Trondhjem so easily is explained by the fact that German warships forced small Norwegian vessels to shield them from guns of the fortress of Agdenes. The Norwegians could not fire on their own countrymen.

The Norwegian army still is disorganized from betrayals, but is determined to fight on.

"It's in the South that they need speedy Allied help," adds The Times' diplomatic correspondent. "In their view it is a race against time."

The Germans are now raiding into Norway from Trondhjem in the hope of cutting Norway in two. One Nazi train actually passed through Norwegian lines of troops, says The Times' Stockholm correspondent, because a Norwegian traitor assured the Norwegian garrison at Hegra that the train carried Norwegians. Deep snow in this district, however, is likely to make advances by stronger forces difficult.

Nazi troops are continuing to land at Trondhjem by air, coming evidently from Denmark, which the Germans are using as a military base. During the fighting near Kongovinger the Norwegians are reported to have driven fifty Germans into the Glomma River where all were drowned.

Queen Addresses Legion's Women

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—The Queen, as president of the women's section of the British Legion, today addressed the organization's annual conference at Queen's Hall.

In her speech she said she had heard with interest of the patriotic spirit in which the women had offered themselves for every kind of national and voluntary service. She urged them at the same time to keep the British Legion strong and alert, as the needs of the last war's veterans must never be neglected.

ALLIES JOIN IN OFFENSIVE

Heavy Fighting Takes Place Throughout the Day on Northern Front

STOCKHOLM, April 17 (AP).—Combined Allied and Norwegian forces tonight blasted strong German forces along a twenty-mile stretch above the Arctic Circle, from the zone about the port of Narvik to the Swedish border, while in the South the Nazis sought to strengthen their positions behind a potential defence line all the way across Central Norway.

Heavy fighting raged throughout the day on the Northern front, with the Allied expeditionary force joining the disorganized Norwegians in the offensive against the Germans.

COMMAND RAIL LINE

The Germans were said to be in command of the ore rail line from Narvik to and including Bjoernfjell, last station on the railway just on the Norwegian side of the Swedish frontier, where 100 Norsemen were killed in a Nazi air raid.

Oslo advices claimed the newly-organized "government" committee in Oslo has assumed control of the German-held capital's administration with the approval of King Haakon.

The King's sanction was said to have been given on the basis of the resignation of Vidkun Quisling's Nazi-approved government.

Berlin dispatches published in Stockholm indicated that the Ger-

ANOTHER ROYAL TOMB IS OPENED

Mummy Found of Egyptian Pharaoh Of 3,600 Years Ago—Has Golden Mask

CAIRO, Egypt, April 17 (AP).—The third intact royal tomb discovered in the history of Egyptology was opened today in the presence of King Farouk by the French expedition headed by Professor Pierre Montet at Tanis.

The tomb contained the mummy of Pharoah Amenemoteh, successor 3,600 years ago to Psou Sennes, second king of the twenty-first dynasty of Ancient Egypt and believed to have been Solomon's father-in-law.

The mummy in the newly-opened tomb has not been examined. It reposed in a wooden coffin with the head covered by a magnificent golden mask.

NAZIS ATTACK IN THE DOWNS

Townspeople Gather on Cliffs as Bombers Are Fought Off

LONDON, April 18 (CP).—Numerous German bombers were reported early today to have attacked shipping in the Downs, Britain's big English Channel contraband control point.

The sound of heavy firing and the roar of the intercepting airplanes was heard along the Southeast Coast.

The News Chronicle said the firing resulted from an attack on the Downs, where neutral ships are taken for examination of their cargoes.

Anti-aircraft guns barked and British fighting machines went aloft to fight off the attack.

Townspeople who gathered on a cliff-top heard the planes speed out to sea, then a series of dull explosions accompanied by the chatter of machine guns.

During the firing the spectators were advised to take shelter, but there was no air raid warning.

Vessels in the vicinity opened fire, while powerful searchlights played across the sky. The number of explosions indicated that an aerial attack had been made against shipping.

The firing was heard for about an hour.

The cliff-top crowd got a few glimpses of flashes of gunfire and explosions shook nearby towns. Some people rushed to shelters, and steel-helmeted police patrolled the streets.

His Majesty Guarded By French-Canadians At Palace in London

Royal 22nd Regiment Relieves Welsh Guards in Colorful Ceremony Witnessed by the King And Queen—Large Crowds Watch

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Stalwart sons of Canada, encircling Buckingham Palace—the symbolic heart of the Empire—tonight guarded by special privilege the person of the King and Queen.

Late in the evening the famed Royal 22nd Regiment had been the King's Guard for almost twelve hours, and once again the Canadians had captured the hearts of Londoners, as they did when the First Division of the Canadian Active Service Force arrived on this side of the water.

Since noon crowds of curious, outside Buckingham and St. James' had watched the French-Canadians on duty. The six-foot, clean-cut Canadians had become one of the most popular sights in town.

Londoners, knowing they are seeing a little bit of history in the making, watch intently as the corporal reads out the orders in French when the new sentries are posted every few hours. Hundreds of people have been photographing a sight that has not been seen in England since Norman times—that of French-speaking subjects of His Majesty, guarding his person, and receiving orders in French.

The most photographed woman in London today was Mrs. Gerard

NAZIS FORCED TO LAND IN SWEDEN

Four Planes Interned—Others Are Chased Away by Aircraft And Gunfire

STOCKHOLM, April 17 (AP).—Four more German planes, including a tri-motored transport, made forced landings in Sweden today as Swedish aircraft and anti-aircraft guns went into action to chase other foreign planes away from Swedish territory.

A big transport, with a crew of three aboard, came down in North Sweden. The pilot said he started from Narvik but lost his way and was forced to land when his fuel supply ran out.

The crews of all the planes were interned.

FEAR SHIP LOST

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—A Reuter's News Agency dispatch from Stockholm said tonight the Finnish steamship, Signe, 2,300 tons, was feared lost with her crew of nineteen. She has not been reported since leaving for England March 29.

Brigadier Stockwell Has High Praise for Women in Training

Pioneer Detachment of B.C. Women's Service Club Makes Smart Showing in First Parade for Inspection by Military District Commander

PIONEERS of women's service work in Canada, the provincial headquarters detachment of the British Columbia Women's Service Club paraded with military smartness and precision last night for their first inspection by Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, district officer commanding M.D. 11.

The parade, which won the highest commendation from the D.O.C., was watched with interest by a large gallery of invited guests in the Armoury, including Commodore V. G. Brodeur, R.C.N., senior naval officer at Esquimalt; Air Commodore A. Earl Godfrey, chief of the Western Air Command; Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia; R. W. Mayhew, M.P.-elect; Alan Chambers, M.P.-elect; Hon. John Hart, Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, and Alderman W. H. Davies.

FIRST OF NINE UNITS

The battalion paraded 150 strong, under the command of Mrs. Norman R. Kennedy, provincial controller, supported by Miss Jean MacLennan, deputy controller; Mrs. A. B. Morkill, assistant controller, and Miss Vivian Wiley, adjutant. The Victoria detachment, which gave the lead in Canada in women's service work in September, 1938, is now the first of nine detachments in various parts of the province.

For the semi-official inspection, the four companies paraded in their smart uniforms, and following the inspection, marched past the saluting base, where Brigadier Stockwell took the salute with Lieut.-Col. J. H. Jenkins, G.S.O.2.

Addressing the battalion after the march-past, the D.O.C. warmly complimented officers, N.C.O.'s and privates on general parade appearance and competence in marching, which, he said, was the more commendable by reason of the fact that the battalion marched without a band to give the time.

VALUABLE SERVICE

The brigadier spoke of his keen interest in the movement, and of his appreciation of the opportunity to inspect the Victoria detachment.

"I am certain that if and when Canada is really pushed for man power, you will be able to take the place of a great many men now carrying on jobs that you are fitting yourselves to do," he said.

"I cannot stress too much my appreciation of this voluntary work. If a real crisis comes, I, as D.O.C. of M.D. 11, will know where to turn for reinforcements to release the men who will be needed elsewhere."

The four companies paraded under the following officers commanding: "A" Company, clerical section, Miss A. Innes; "B" Company, motor transport, Mrs. Hugo Rayment; "C" Company, first aid, Mrs. D. K. Graham; "D" Company, commissariat, Mrs. H. A. Tomalin.

For several months the headquarters detachment has been parading twice a month at the Armoury and weekly in Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall.

HIS MAJESTY IS GUARDED

Charlebois, charming wife of the Canadians' commander, whose picture appeared in all the papers.

English readers were tickled to learn that she is "marine"—godmother—to all those strapping six-footers.

TORONTO SCOTTISH NEXT

The soldiers from old Quebec took over the guard from a company of the Welsh Guards, and after four days will be relieved by the Toronto Scottish, who also will stand guard for four days.

The King and Queen watched from a balcony as the hand-picked detachment of the Vingt-Deuxieme swung into the forecourt of Buckingham Palace behind the brass band of the Grenadier Guards and the fifes of the Welsh Guards.

They remained there to witness the novel scene—the second time in history when men from the senior Dominion have come to guard His Majesty's person. The last occasion was during the Coronation, when members of the Canadian contingent took over the guard for twenty-four hours, along with representatives of the other Dominions.

Following presentation of arms, the major of the old guard stepped forward and handed the King's keys to Captain Gerard Charlebois, commander of the Canadians.

USHERED INTO PALACE

This phase of the ceremony ended. Their Majesties retired into the palace. A few minutes later, Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in the United Kingdom; Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, general officer commanding the First Division, Canadian Active Service Force, and the latter's aide, Lieutenant-Colonel A. E. Walford, were ushered into the palace to be received by the King and Queen.

During the traditional interlude, the Grenadiers' Band serenaded the crowd with a medley of popular French airs, including "Alouette," "Madelon," "Vive la Canadienne" and "En Roulant ma Boule."

Later, the King, in an admiral's uniform, came out of the palace and stood in the forecourt watching the Canadians being posted as sentries at the front of the palace. At the Monarch's right was General McNaughton, and on his left, Mr. Massey.

IN ATTENDANCE

Grouped about them were Major-General H. D. G. Crerar, senior officer of Canadian military headquarters in London; Brigadiers C. B. Price, P. J. Montague and Armand Smith, Colonel Walford, Lieutenant-Colonel Percy Flynn, officer commanding the Royal 22nd; Mrs. Massey, L. B. Pearson, secretary of Canada House, and Mrs. Pearson.

Watching from the balcony was the Queen, accompanied by her lady-in-waiting, Lady Helen Graham.

While His Majesty shook hands and chatted with the distinguished visitors, newsreels and cameras ground out yards of history. Final commands were barked out, the Welsh Guards gave the Royal salute, and the ceremony ended as the bands struck up the National Anthem.

Pork Imports Restricted on Canadian Order

DURING the life of the United Kingdom-Canadian bacon agreement, which will expire on October 31, imports of fresh and frozen pork from the United States to Canada will be restricted to monthly shipments not exceeding the corresponding movement of last year, Hon. K. C. MacDonald announced yesterday, on receipt of a Federal order in council passed on February 23, and delayed six weeks in transmission to the Province. The action was to stop a glut of pork products in Canada, where storage stocks are already under some accumulation, Dr. MacDonald said.

lationships of the whole Pacific Ocean. The islands themselves extend for a distance of approximately 3,200 miles east and west astride of the equator, from the Indian Ocean on the west far into the Pacific Ocean on the east.

"They are also an important factor in the commerce of the whole world. They produce considerable portions of the world's supplies of important essential commodities, such as rubber, tin, quinine, copra, etc. Many countries, including the United States, depend substantially upon them for some of these commodities."

ON TWO AGREEMENTS

Secretary Hull based his status quo doctrine on two important agreements. One was, he said, the notes exchanged November 30, 1908, between the United States and Japan "in which each of the two Governments stated that its policy was directed to the maintenance of the existing status quo in the region of the Pacific Ocean."

The second was the notes which the United States, the British Empire, France and Japan—parties to the treaty signed here December 13, 1921, relating to their insular possessions and dominions in the Pacific—sent to The Netherlands Government February 4, 1922.

Each of the four Governments declared: "It is firmly resolved to respect the rights of The Netherlands in relation to their insular possessions in the region of the Pacific Ocean."

In effect, Hull, through his statement, indicated his confidence in the ability of The Netherlands East Indies to govern themselves if cut off by war from the motherland. The islands, which have a population of 60,000,000, have had virtually the status of a dominion for some years.

"SERIOUS POSSIBILITY"

SHANGHAI, April 18 (AP).—Authorities of the British, French and United States fleets said today that a Japanese attempt to seize the Dutch East Indies in the event of a German invasion of The Netherlands is a "serious possibility."

The British and French forces in the Far East were said to be prepared for any eventuality.

"If Japan could be certain that Russia would not jump on her back, it is highly possible that the Japanese would act," said one neutral naval observer.

"A Japanese thrust southward probably would result in Japan entering the war on the side of Germany.

"If the Japanese decide the probabilities favor their success they may occupy the islands, using the same excuse as Adolf Hitler used in Denmark and Norway." (That the Allies are planning the same thing).

FAVORABLE FACTORS

Summing up the possibilities, naval officials said a number of factors favor the likelihood of Japanese action in the form of a lightning stroke timed to coincide with a German drive into The Netherlands.

First and foremost, they said, is Japan's "unconcealed ambition" to get control of the East Indies oil, rubber and tin supplies, thus making her independent of foreign supplies.

"If the East Indies could be grabbed in a swift, successful stroke," these sources added, "Japan's dreams of dominating the Western Pacific and the ousting of European colonial powers would be well on the way toward realization overnight."

EXPLAINS SITUATION

TOKIO, April 18 (AP).—Commander T. Kanoe, acting as a spokesman for the Japanese Admiralty, said today that Japan's concern as to the status quo of The Netherlands East Indies is similar to United States' interest in Greenland, but that Japan has "much more vital" interests in the Dutch Pacific possessions.

He declared that "development of the natural resources of the East Indies must be made by all means, but Japan has no territorial designs there."

Kanoe declined, however, to comment directly on the statement of United States Secretary of State Hull, who last night called on Japan and other nations to respect the status quo in the Dutch East Indies regardless of what may transpire in The Netherlands.

It was said that the statement of Japanese Foreign Minister Arita, which evoked the full statement, was intended to clarify Japan's position in advance of any possible development and was necessitated by the swiftness of modern war.

NON-INVOLVEMENT

"Arita's statement was based on Japan's policy on non-involvement in the European war," Kanoe said.

"The navy's great concern is that any change in the status quo of The Netherlands East Indies would mean the extension of hostilities into this part of the world, to which the navy has the strongest objection."

In view of the United States' attitude toward Greenland, he continued, "no wonder Japan is so concerned in the East Indies, especially considering that Japan has a much more vital interest there," than the United States has in Greenland.

Kanoe declined to name the nation considered likely to upset the status quo. He said that an American press campaign regarding Japan's naval building programme, which he declined to discuss, appears "a drive to win more naval funds from Congress."

ARCHBISHOP TO LEAVE OFFICE

Most Rev. A. U. de Pencier To Retire at End of September

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP). — Most Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Anglican Archbishop of New Westminster, told the forty-eighth session of the Synod of the Diocese today that he will retire from office at the end of September this year.

Archbishop de Pencier, who became a bishop thirty years ago, told the meeting that he would like "very much" to carry on but that he felt, "in justice to the work of the diocese," he ought to retire and allow a younger man to take his place.

Although he had been asked to carry on until after the war, Archbishop de Pencier said he had made his decision after careful consideration and with due regard to the "unsettled outlook."

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

Rev. John Leigh, of Vancouver, was unanimously re-elected clerical secretary of the synod. Fred H. H. Parkes, Vancouver, was re-elected honorary secretary of the church.

Archbishop de Pencier was born at Burrit's Rapids, Ont., in 1866, and was educated at the Kemptville High School, the Normal School at Ottawa and Trinity" College, Toronto.

In 1890 he was ordained as a priest and installed as incumbent of the church at Navan, Ont. Eighteen years later, he became rector of St. Paul's Church at Vancouver and because of his active participation in church affairs was chosen for the Bishopric of New Westminster in 1910. He was raised to the archbishopric in 1925.

Call on Nation to Redouble Efforts to Defeat Germany

British Leaders Tell Audiences of German Hatred Of All Things British—Allies Seek to Preserve Possibility of Progress

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Led by Anthony Eden, Secretary for the Dominions, who defined the Allies' chief war aim as preservation of "the possibility of progress," British leaders today called upon the nation to redouble its efforts to defeat a Germany inspired by its Fuehrer with hatred of all things British.

Mr. Eden, addressing the constitutional Club, praised "the magnificent things which the Dominions are doing," and presented them as "living refutation of the Nazi thesis that liberty is synonymous with decadence and that a system based upon freedom cannot last."

Nazism means rigidity and a halt in the advance of civilization, he said, whereas the Allies are dedicated to the belief that the world must be kept open to change and improvement.

TAUGHT TO HATE ENGLAND

Sir John Reith, Minister of Information, speaking in Southampton at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon, said the Germans "have been taught from their earliest years to hate England."

"To such extent as 80,000,000 Germans are identified with the Nazi party, support it, are willing to submit to it and do submit to it—to that extent Britain is fighting Germany and the British people are fighting the German people," he said, "and don't let there be any mistake about it."

He cautioned against "the danger of being neutral-minded in England," saying he had "met neutrals walking the streets of England."

"There is apathy and boredom," he said, "and yet this is a war of wills as it is a war of guns."

IMMEDIATE RETALIATION

Herbert Morrison, Labor leader of the London County Council, said public opinion would demand immediate retaliation if German planes bombed British civilians. "If they make an attack," he said, "we shall not shrink undefended, and the counter-stroke will come with power, might and efficiency."

Mr. Eden denied that the war is "a clash between rival dynasties."

"The German Government's conception of the world's future is incompatible with ours," he said, "nor is there room for both. For Nazism humanity consists of one race that rules—the German race—and other races are all and always inferior.

"We are convinced on the other hand that there can be no hope of mankind unless peoples, small as well as great, are free each to develop their own civilization in security and at peace. It is, therefore, fundamentals that are at stake. No more vital issues have ever been fought out in any war in history."

ONE MUST PREVAIL

Contrasting the German doctrine of "subjection and repression" with the British conception of "equality and development," Mr. Eden said one or the other must prevail.

"Hitler is not a phenomenon," he said. "He is a symptom. He is not something distinct from the German nation. He is the direct expression of a great part of it. His plans are inherited from Bismarck and Nietzsche, and other earlier exponents of German faith in brute force."

He challenged, among the "vulgar fallacies about the nature of the British Empire" the idea that Britain owns one-fourth of the globe.

LUDICROUSLY UNTRUE

"This is absolutely, even ludicrously untrue," he said. "No part of the Empire owns any other part. Equally wide of the mark is the fallacy that Great Britain rules over the whole of the British Commonwealth. Britain no more rules over Canada than Canada rules over Britain. Australia no more rules over New Zealand than New Zealand over Australia. The equality of each and all of the self-governing Dominions is complete and absolute.

"This is much more than a conflict of interests. It is a conflict of worlds. The whole story of civilization waits upon its issue."

He predicted a grim future for the world if Germany were to win the war.

"Should the Nazis triumph now," he said, "I believe the history of the next centuries would be one of violence and bitterness, of revolutions and counter-revolutions."

KILLED OVERSEAS IN BLACKOUT MANOEUVRES

ALDERSHOT, England, April 17 (CP). — Brother non-commissioned officers formed a firing party today at the grave of Platoon Sergeant-Major M. L. Larsen, of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Sergeant-Major Larsen was killed in blackout manoeuvres when his motorcycle collided with a truck. He was thirty years of age.

Sergeant-Major Larsen came to Victoria from Vancouver and enlisted in the P.P.C.L.I. in 1934. He left here on November 14, 1939, and went overseas with the second contingent, arriving in England on New Year's Eve.

He is survived by his wife, who is at present residing in Vancouver with her parents.

TWO FACE CHARGE OF STEALING CAR

Chris Kiteley and Alex Badcock Are Remanded Until Today In Police Court

Charged in the city police court with stealing a car from R. D. Matthews on April 14, Chris Kiteley and Alex Babcock were remanded until this morning without plea.

Mr. Matthews' car was taken from the driveway of his house at 707 Linden Avenue on Sunday night or early Sunday morning.

Late Tuesday night Sergeant Eric Elwell and Constable C. F. G. Pearce, Saanich police, informed city police that they chased Mr. Matthews' car to Austin Avenue, where it was abandoned by three soldiers and two girls.

Constables James Strong and B. Douglass later apprehended Kiteley and Babcock with the two girls. Sergeant J. H. Patterson and Constable Douglas Bone took the girls to their homes.

On the rear of the stolen car police found a licence plate No. 10-

THE NORWEGIAN CAMPAIGN

Senator Pittman, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate of the United States, expresses the belief that the Germans will be driven out of Norway within thirty days. The Allies will hope that this neutral opinion is correct, but, unfortunately, it seems to be based on wishful thinking and nothing else. The Allies are under no illusions. They are prepared to wage a war in Norway that in every probability will be prolonged for many months, perhaps years, because already half of the country is held by the Germans. Both the Germans and the Allies are pouring troops and equipment into what seems destined to become one of the main theatres of the War. The Germans had a full week's start in their latest act of aggression, and they had been preparing for it for months past. It was a decision believed to have been arrived at during the military conferences in Berlin last January.

Before the war in Norway is brought to an end the likelihood is that hundreds of thousands of troops will have been engaged in battle. With the realization that greatly-increased man power will be needed, and needed soon, for the new Allied offensive, Great Britain is advancing the date when the next class will be called to the colors. This month and next month, in addition to those under arms, 850,000 men will register. The 1912 class (men who reached the age of twenty-seven during the year 1939) is called upon to register on May 25, whereas, before the invasion of Norway there was no intention of calling it up until late in June.

Germany is bringing a large proportion of her air strength to bear upon the campaign in Norway. She is using transport planes to land troops. She is entrenching herself at air bases at Stavanger and other coastal points. She is still able to send troop transports, supply ships and stores to Oslo, and for this purpose her occupation of Denmark has facilitated operations. Despite the laying of minefields by the British Fleet, the Skager Rack and the Cattegat are by no means closed seas, because minefields can be swept up by the enemy just as they have been by the British. Moreover, the German Fleet still operates though its power has been curtailed. It can still convoy troopships, which are also protected from the air. It is known that Germany continues to land troops and all the impedimenta of war at Oslo and at other points in Norway.

The task of the Allies is no simple one. The seaway for Germany's transport of troops is approximately 250 miles; that of the Allies is nearly 1,000. The advantage held by the latter in this particular is the ability to give much better protection to its transports and supply ships. There is no doubt that Germany is suffering losses at sea. Many of her transports and other vessels engaged in the Norwegian campaign have been sunk, but the enemy has an immense reservoir of man power and other resources upon which to draw for the present military adventure. To combat this aggression will need an immense effort on the part of the Allies. Those who believe with Senator Pittman that the campaign in Norway will be of short duration cannot be acquainted with the facts of the situation. They cannot have an intelligent appreciation of those developments which are fashioning a main theatre of the War in the Scandinavian State.

ECONOMIC SELF-SUFFICIENCY

Professor A. G. B. Fisher, a London University professor of economics, has written an essay on "Economic Self-Sufficiency," a topic of vital interest at the present time. It is much too long for extensive quotation, but a brief summary of its essential points may prove useful.

The idea of economic self-sufficiency is not a modern conception. The ancient Greeks had a specific term to denote a city state that needed no imports, and throughout history down to comparatively modern time self-sufficient communities have existed; though usually on a low standard of living. Those countries that engage in foreign trade rise to a higher level of culture. Sometimes it happens that the benefits arising from foreign trade are not without drawbacks. An inflow of cheap goods from abroad or a contraction of demand in foreign markets is likely to be the starting point of a policy of self-sufficiency.

At the present time the doctrine of economic self-sufficiency is preached with great zeal in Germany and Italy. Field Marshal Goering said recently that "dependence on the greater or lesser good will of foreign Powers is, for a self-conscious people that has the desire to live, simply intolerable." Signor Mussolini has declared that Italy must in the least possible time achieve "the maximum possible amount of economic autonomy." The question, however, is whether any economy can hope to achieve complete self-sufficiency. One country may succeed in growing all the wheat it needs for home consumption. Another, though short of certain natural resources, can supply those needs by the invention of substitutes. A third may concentrate its energies upon manufacturing industry. Is it not, therefore, possible for a country to do all these things and organize a complete home system independent of the foreigner?

The answer has been given by Herr Hitler himself, who said, a little more than a year ago, that "at one point nature sets the limit to any further intensification of effort." The inference drawn from this by the Germans is that since Germany is dependent on supplies from other countries, these supplies must be assured and guaranteed in spite of trade fluctuations or even war. Weaker nations may not like to submit to a policy laid down for them by stronger ones, but since it is the will of Germany to become and to remain powerful and self-sufficient, weaker States must adapt themselves to the requirements of a more powerful neighbor.

There seems to be a serious defect in this course of reasoning. It is very doubtful if there is anywhere on the globe a single geographical area within which adequate supplies of everything essential are available. Even if North and South America were to be regarded as such an area, there would be awkward gaps, notably in the supply of manganese, chromiums, and tin. Complete self-sufficiency is impossible, and the belief that a partial contraction of trade relations with other countries insures immunity from trade fluctuations is no more than another triumph of faith over both reason and experience.

Self-sufficiency as a national policy might achieve better success in Germany and elsewhere if Germany's neighbors could be induced to adapt their policy to German needs. Even so, as long as Germany has to draw important supplies from countries which have no intention whatever of adapting their economic organization to German requirements, "the German nation," as Herr Hitler said, "must export or die," in order to be able to purchase imports from those countries not included in Germany's sphere of influence." Even in Germany the search for self-sufficiency has proved, and will continue to be, a search for a will-o'-the-wisp as long as there are any free governments in the world.

FOR THE SOLARIUM

There is the thought in many people's minds that the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay stands in a category of its own in philanthropic works. Its purpose of medicinal mercy for crippled children is being carried out for the Province as a whole. Unfortunately, this fact has never been recognized to the full, for, if it were, every centre of population in British Columbia would be anxious to contribute, in some form or other, to its upkeep. Because of the growing demands there have been for philanthropic organizations and auxiliary War services, the Solarium has suffered. It should not be allowed to have any trouble in this respect hereafter. If there is one institution in the Province calling for considerate treatment and loyal support it is that at Mill Bay, which has established a legend of devoted attention to the amelioration of the lot of those who, because of physical disadvantages, have lives clouded with suffering and consequent unhappiness.

The Solarium's Junior League is conducting a tag day on Saturday, with the object of reinforcing the funds. It is carrying on, as well, what is called an April shower of dimes for the same purpose. This joint effort deserves the hearty co-operation of the public. It has been the experience of the past that the Solarium has a place of special interest in the hearts of the public, but it may be that, in the multiplicity of present-day appeals, it has been in part overlooked. It cannot be forgotten, because its needs are perennial and the efficiency of the purpose it serves fully recognized. It is a cause that should be supported whole-heartedly. The energies of the Junior League of the Solarium deserve the reward of compassionate public interest, which can be demonstrated on Saturday, throughout this month, and on into the years as well, in the determination of the people that this work of mercy shall not be permitted to become impaired.

The Times, London, in heading a German official communique containing extravagant claims of British losses, said: "Think of a Number; Double It." It is excellent advice for those who read such communiques.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Canada guards the person of The King! No greater honor could have been done to the loyalty and affection of the Canadian people, and all of them, than was achieved yesterday when the lives and safety of Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth, and of the Royal Household, were entrusted to the Royal Twenty-Second Regiment, a French-Canadian unit of the First Division, Canadian Active Service Force. At a stroke, Canada's fighting men were raised to the status of Royal Guards.

Bands of the Grenadier Guards and the Irish Guards played the Quebec regiment from Wellington Barracks to Buckingham Palace, where the Royal Standard was flying. The Welsh Guards, on duty at Buckingham and St. James Palaces turned over their trust, French-Canadian soldiers, from a picked six-foot guard, posted sentries about the royal grounds. Sentries "passed"; the new guard and the old guard faced and saluted; His Majesty taking the salute in person, while overhead on the balcony Queen Elizabeth watched. The Welsh Guards marched off the grounds, and Canada was guarding the person of The King.

For four days the Royal Twenty-Second Regiment will mount the Royal Guard, when they will be relieved by the Toronto Scottish Regiment, the second unit of the Canadian Active Service Force to share the symbolic honor for all Canada. His Majesty is Colonel-in-Chief of the Royal Twenty-Second Regiment; and Her Majesty is Colonel-in-Chief of the Toronto Scottish Regiment, to whom less than a year ago she presented new colors during the Royal visit to Canada.

It is a symbol rich in meaning. These honors were won for Canada on the battlefield: at Ypres, at Festubert, at Hill Sixty, at Givenchy, at Courcelette, at Mount St. Eloi, at Sanctuary Wood, at Arras, at Vimy, at Paschendale, at the last Mons. They were consecrated in the blood of 60,000 Canadians who laid down their lives on the frontiers of freedom almost a quarter of a century ago. They were repeated in the battle flags of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Canadian Divisions of the first Canadian Army Corps. They live once more and are held high by the sons of Canadians who answered the call then; sons who have already shown that the highest trust of a nation's honor is in safe keeping.

It is well to remember these things, the traditions that help to make bright the annals of a British Commonwealth that today, as ever, stands before the world for freedom. While the Toronto Scottish will be on duty at Buckingham Palace and at St. James Palace guarding the person of the King, the twenty-fifth anniversary of Canada's first World War engagement will occur, the Second Battle of Ypres. Ypres was only the first of a long series of engagements that lifted the Canadian Corps from the status of Valcartier colonials to crack fighting regiments of British arms, side by side with the Guards. And today, Canadians are mounting the Royal Guard.

If there was one outstanding honor that could be done to the First Division of the Canadian Active Service Force this was it, that Canada should be entrusted with the person of The King. On top of the Royal visit of May and June last year; in addition to the presenting of the King's Color to the Royal Canadian Navy, and regimental Colors to the Toronto Scottish; to mount guard at Buckingham Palace, beneath the Royal Standard, is the supreme seal on a confidence forged on the battlefield and under fire. Then, as now, freedom was at stake. Now, as then, the trust will be earned.

It was a happy, it was a brilliant choice which led to the selection of a French-Canadian regiment for the signal honor. Side by side with France, the British Commonwealth of Nations is standing once more between the world and chaos; more intent, more serious, more determined than ever before that the rabid, mad-dog rule of force shall be banished from the face of the earth; that law shall prevail; that despots will meet the fate that all history shows is in store for them. The Lion is awake. His cubs, and all of them, are grown and vigorous. From the ends of the earth they have rallied, as they always will. Let tyrants tremble; theirs is the waning day!

"Why didn't you catch that guy? You had bloodhounds!"

"Well, could I help it if he was anaemic?"

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of April 18, 1890)

The Boating Season—The different boat builders around the city have been kept busy during the Winter months building new and repairing old pleasure boats for the coming season. Last Summer the supply was very much behind the demand, but this year everyone will be supplied. Boating has always been a feature of outside enjoyment of Victorians, and the pleasure-seekers will be pleased to hear of the action of the boathouses.

Wedding Solemnized—Mr. P. D. Hughes, formerly of Toronto and now of Seattle, was united in marriage at the Pro-Cathedral yesterday morning to Miss Crookall, who arrived from Berlin, Ont., on Wednesday to meet her affianced. After the marriage ceremony the happy couple were driven to the Driard House, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. They leave this morning for their new home in Seattle.

Ministers' Dinner—Hon. J. H. Turner entertained the following gentlemen at dinner at his residence last evening: Hon. John Robson, Hon. F. G. Vernon, Hon. C. E. Pooley, Hon. T. Davie and Messrs. Croft, Anderson, Haslam, Cunningham, Mason, Nason, Baker, Smith and Martin.

GASOLINE SALE IS INCREASING

Total B.C. Use of Motor Fuel Reached 4,229,025 Gallons in January

Reporting gasoline sales in British Columbia during the first month of this year, the Provincial Fuel Control Board announced yesterday that a total of 4,229,025 gallons of petroleum products had been sold in January, for a slight increase over the corresponding month last year.

Returns by dealers to the board indicated 543,282 gallons of gasoline had been sold in the Victoria area, 2,778,756 gallons on the Lower Mainland and 1,406,987 gallons in other parts of the Province as a whole.

The increase varied from 15 to 30 per cent in some instances, compared with sales in January, 1939, board officials said.

Had No Diving Board

Arnold Avenue Alec just finished a fancy garden pool and was standing admiring it when one of the neighbors arrived on a tour of inspection. "Nice pool, Alec," he commented. "It seems you have left something out." Alec, who had acquired dozens of new blisters, a sore back, and flat feet working on his masterpiece, indignantly wanted to know just what he had left out. "A diving board, of course," the neighbor laughed. During the week Alec's friends found that he intended to stock the pool with trout. All arrangements have been secretly completed for a night fishing party . . . According to the director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, "by law Canada had declared that every United States tourist would be paid the current rate of exchange, and that the regulation was going to be carried out from coast to coast." It should prove a great incentive to the tourist traffic during the Summer if every tourist receives $1.15 or more worth of goods for $1. The lure of receiving extra cash for every United States dollar will be strong . . . According to news items, the Armed Merchant Cruiser Squadron came across some interesting finds on contraband control. They were: rubber disguised as coffee beans, honeycombs filled with rubber solution, rubber balls disguised as onions, sticks of aluminum covered with macaroni, engine boilers filled with fat and contraband metal riveted to ships' hulls.—G.B.

Sport Slants

Jim Lackie, manager of the V.L.A. softball team, certainly has the right idea when he suggests that Victoria City and Victoria West join forces and make one club for the Connaught Cup series. A keen sportsman, Lackie is ready to sponsor such a club in the Dominion play-downs . . . Tenpin bowlers attending the annual meeting of the Olympic Senior League wind-up Tuesday evening were bemoaning the lack of interest in the sport here. They have a four-team circuit, and they feel they should have at least a dozen teams . . . Answer to yesterday's quiz: Bert Nex, popular manager of last season's Pitzer & Nex balltossers, is the player who upset the old adage "they never come back." Bert, as he is known on the local baseball front, donned a uniform last year and then climaxed his comeback by pilotting the gashouse gang to the city championship, after being out of the sport for a few seasons.—S.T.

Comparing Temperatures

A comparison of the various temperatures represented in the meteorological reports across Canada, day by day, affords local residents an opportunity to congratulate themselves upon their place of residence. It is disclosed that while Victoria is basking in what might be called Summer conditions, other sections of the country are either just escaping zero temperatures at night time, or waiting for the coming of Spring. In this belt the country is enjoying late Spring flowers with Summer floral representatives coming into bloom. The great Oriental poppies which are associated with warm weather are now in bloom here, and similar lovers of warm temperatures are bursting into blossom.—O.H.N.

WEASANDS

Sir,—In your editorial of this morning I noticed the article on "Weasands." In last Saturday's Toronto Star there was an article on the same subject. It seems they are the windpipes of certain animals on the way to Germany to make into sausage skins. So, evidently the Germans will have to eat their sausage "as is."

Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN

Sir,—I am writing to ask for the support of the citizens of Victoria and adjacent municipalities for the war work campaign of the Y.M.C.A. which is now putting on a drive throughout Canada to raise $1,038,000.

In a war such as we are now engaged it is vitally important to keep up the morale of our fighting forces, and the Y.M.C.A. is making a worthwhile contribution to this objective.

I am sure that our citizens will do their utmost to make the local campaign a success.

A. McGAVIN, Mayor.

RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS

Sir,—May I enlarge the field of this discussion sufficiently to give a background to the one remark that I wish to make on the above topic?

During the last twenty-five years or more there has been a decided movement away from God and the Bible in certain sections of the intellectual and even of the religious world. Now the fruitage of such teaching, and the desperate state of the world in general, have caused a reaction. Men are realizing that they cannot get along without God, and are trying to find their way back to Him.

It is becoming more and more evident that this war is one between principles rather than between nations. We claim to be fighting to make the world sane and safe for all, morally and religiously, as well as politically. In a life and death struggle even the best succumb to the temptation to lower their high standards in order to avoid losing a seeming advantage. And it may easily be that we shall make the same mistake in the moral and spiritual warfare. When we have beaten the visible foe with material weapons, the war will not be over, nor the dangers. Unless we move carefully and prayerfully we may find, in the post-war reconstruction, that we have stepped out of the frying pan into the fire. The conditions will, no doubt, seem to demand heroic remedies, and the apparent good of the many may take precedence over other considerations. We may exchange the present domination of the weak by violence for one by a strong religious power which will be equally oppressive in its sphere. It is possible, and not altogether improbable, that a zeal that is not according to knowledge will throw away the very thing we have been fighting for.

Now, applying this to our topic, we all realize that our young people need genuine religious help, instruction and example more than they need anything else in the world. We should endeavor to give it to them by every legitimate means. But we must find a way of doing this without in any way coercing minorities. If we are to teach them the Bible, we must be sure that we follow Bible methods and principles in doing so, or the ultimate results will be very different from what we desire. Let us find the "straight and narrow way" in this as in all else, and keep in the middle of it.

SCOUT LEADERS WANTED

Sir,—Since the outbreak of war, Scouts in this district have lost forty-two leaders who have joined His Majesty's forces. In consequence we are carrying on somewhat under difficulties, and though some former Scouters and Scouts have come forward to help, I feel there must be many more who would lend a hand if they knew of our need.

Would any such men get in touch with our secretary, Mr. Warwick Rawson, 310 Union Building, G 1825, G 5679?

There will be a training course for both Scout and Cub leaders this Summer, so that all whose scouting is a bit rusty can bring themselves up to date. J. WISE, Major.
District Commissioner, 310 Union Building, Victoria, B.C., April 16, 1940.

RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS

Sir,—In a day when we are seeing the unhappy fruits of secular education in the world, many are concerned with the subject of religious education in our schools. The Department of National Defence makes generous provision for the spiritual welfare of our enlisted men. Our Legislative Assembly opens its sessions with several prayers to God for guidance in its deliberations. Our schools may or may not say the Lord's Prayer each day as the teacher desires, and this is all the act allows!

Since a large body of public opinion believes the Education Act should contain provision for more attention to be given to religion it may be wondered why amendment is not forthcoming. The delay is not due to anti-Christian influences nor is it due to the indifference of our legislators. Many of the latter would raise both hands in favor of religious education in the schools.

The blame is to be laid at the failure of we who are the religious leaders to agree as to what sort of religious teaching we want our children to be given. Some of us want it to be given by the class teacher as a regular part of the curriculum, some desire the right of entry for denominational instruction (conceding the same right to all bodies as well as the right of withdrawal in a conscience clause); others merely want the Bible to be read daily without comment, and, strangely enough, there is a minority of Christians that declines any place to religion in our day school life.

Meanwhile, we deplore the advance of the forces of evil.

God must be very patient with Christian lack of unity in a matter so vital! S. J. WICKENS.

Danish Occupation Does Not Mean High Prices in Dominion

Warnings Are Issued to Canadian Farmers Not To Expect Increase in Commodity Prices Because of German Grab in Denmark

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP).—Warnings went out today from two Government agencies to Canadian farmers not to expect immediate higher prices for hogs, butter and eggs merely because Danish products no longer reach United Kingdom markets.

The Bacon Board indicated in a statement that bacon prices shortly will be lowered to Canadian consumers. And the Agricultural Supply Board told the public even if Great Britain turned to Canada eventually for supplies it formerly imported from Denmark, "there is no indication that greatly increased prices would follow."

Communications have been pouring in to the Agricultural Supply Board, headed by A. M. Shaw, indicating farmers expected rising prices and that Great Britain would turn at once to Canada for more bacon, eggs and butter, since the German occupation of Denmark cut off Danish supplies.

HAS SUFFICIENT

The statements emphasized Great Britain at present has sufficient stocks of bacon and butter.

Great Britain, therefore, is not pressed to increase its imports of bacon, butter or eggs from Canada and part of the loss of Danish supplies can be offset by rationing. Bacon rationing was in effect, but increased consumption later was permitted because of the large supplies on hand.

One purpose of rationing is to require British civilians to substitute foods more readily produced at home and accordingly conserve the exchange for purchases of war materials, on which the United Kingdom proposes to spend $446,000,000 in Canada during the first twelve months of hostilities.

It is explained, however, that before the war Denmark supplied the United Kingdom annually with 400,000,000 pounds of bacon, 226,000,000 pounds of butter and 97,000,000 dozen eggers, so that eventually Great Britain must increase its imports from other sources and likely will then turn to North America.

"United States has surpluses of many agricultural products and prices are extremely low," the Supply Board statement said.

"Exchange rates, however, plus the fact that Britain may wish to use her American currency for the purchase of more strictly military supplies, may cause the United Kingdom authorities to look to Canada for added quantities of bacon and other livestock products when that time comes.

"It might likewise be pointed out that even should Britain require from Canada increased quantities of these commodities, there is no indication that greatly-increased prices would follow. From the very beginning of the war, Britain's policy has perforce been aimed at preventing undue price increases in supplies needed for war purposes."

"I wonder why time is said to fly?" "Probably it is because so many people are trying to kill it!"

SOCIETY HEARS TWO SPEAKERS

Talks on Yukon Territory And Telescope Making Heard Last Night

An interesting talk on the Yukon Territory, its climate and topography, was given by W. Berton at the meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society in the Y.W.C.A. last night.

Mr. Berton, a former resident of the Northern district for forty-one years, illustrated his address with lantern slides. He was assisted by Dr. R. M. Petrie.

He said that Dawson had daylight from the end of May until mid-August, and the average year-round temperature was 30 degrees below freezing. The Yukon River, on which Dawson is situated, usually froze up about November 10 and opened on May 10.

A unique mechanical device was used to record the exact moment that the ice broke up in the big annual sweepstake. Mr. Berton said. Although the city was so far north, the speaker nevertheless showed pictures of attractive gardens and wholesome vegetables which were grown in the Summer months.

MAKING A TELESCOPE

"How to Make a Telescope" was the subject of a technical talk by L. Hopkins. Cost of a home-constructed telescope was comparatively small in comparison to the product of the manufacturer, he declared.

Mr. Hopkins dealt with the three types of telescope: Refracting, Newtonian Reflector and Cassegrain. The Newtonian, he said, was best suited to the needs of the amateur due to its lower cost. He then spoke in detail on the grinding of the lenses, mounting, etc.

Robert Peters, president of the society, introduced the speakers.

NEW SEARCH FOR MISSING FLYERS

Captain Will Look Among Coral Islands for Aviatrix Putnam And Navigator Noonan

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 17 (AP).—A new search for Amelia Earhart Putnam, long missing woman flyer, and her navigator, Captain Frederick J. Noonan, is being made in the South Pacific by Captain Irving Johnson, of the globe-circling schooner Yankee, of Gloucester, according to advices received today by his brother, Arthur J. Johnson.

The area to be searched includes some sixty islands of the Gilbert and Ellice groups, many of them little more than coral reefs.

The flyers have not been reported since their radio communication with Howland Island suddenly terminated in July, 1937, while they were on a flight around the world. At that time, Captain Johnson and the Yankee were on their second world cruise, close to the aviators' line of flight, and he reported probably the last communication from the plane, in which no position was given.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Court of Appeal
Victoria Sittings

First Narrows Bridge Company Limited (A) vs. City of Vancouver (R)—Decision on this appeal was reserved at the conclusion of the hearing yesterday morning.

In closing his argument, Mr. McTaggart submitted that the bridge was a fixture since it was attached to the pier at either side of Burrard Inlet and, though it projects out beyond the land properly taxable by the City of Vancouver, it must still be considered a fixture which had enhanced the value of that land. By Section 46 of the "City Charter" all real property or any right or interest therein inside the city limits was subject to taxation. This case does not differ from the general rule even though the right is merely a right to construct. He stated the proper principal to apply in assessing the value of the bridge was to assess it as a going concern and revenue producer. He also submitted the cost of replacement should be taken into consideration.

This was the method of computation used by the city assessor.

Mr. Hosie in reply submitted that by the assessor's own words the bridge was only worth $1,200,000 from a revenue-producing point of view over the whole bridge. That part in the city limits should only be one-quarter of this sum or $300,000. He insisted, however, that the Vancouver City had no statutory or common law right to assess the First Narrows Bridge for taxation purposes.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Mr. McTaggart suggested that by the terms of the City Charter, the Court of Appeal had power only to reduce the assessment to 10 per cent below the 1939 assessment, or $270,000 for the bridge, but had no power to give a decision ruling that the city had no power to assess the bridge at all.

THIRD VICTORIA TROOP

The weekly meeting of the Third Victoria Boy Scout Troop was held in the Scout Hall, 1034 Johnson Street, recently. The meeting was opened by Acting Duty Patrol Leader Charles Watson, of the Beaver Patrol. After inspection and a short game, a period of instruction was held. Ronald Shepherd, Martin Shepherd and Murray Cliff were successful in passing their tenderfoot tests, and are now ready to be invested. Laurence Eddy passed his second class first aid, and George Evans and Peter Campbell qualified for first class "training and tenderfoot" award.

The signaller's badge was presented to Patrol Leader Bob Fletcher, and Troop Leader Duff Macdonell received his gold cords, one of the highest awards in Scout work. To obtain the gold cords, a boy must be a King's Scout and hold eighteen proficiency badges. Stanley Gow was invested as a Scout, and was admitted to the Wolf Patrol. Laurence Eddy, of the Eagle Patrol, reaffirmed his Scout promise on transferring to Third Victoria from a Vancouver troop. The honor patrol for the evening was the Wolves, under Patrol Leader Bob Fletcher.

Plans are under way for the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the granting of the group charter. A troop jamboree will be held on Saturday, May 4, at 2:30 p.m. at the Scout hall, to celebrate this event, and will be open to the public. A further announcement concerning this event will be made soon.

UNIT TRAINS FOR SERVICE

Canadian Soldiers Carry Out Intensive Training for Overseas Duty

By SAM ROBERTSON

ALDERSHOT, April 17 (CP).—Trenches and wooded fields dotting the Aldershot area are aswarm day and night with Canadian troops as all units of the First Division carry out an intensive programme of unit training.

In the night you hear boots, boots, boots climping as an infantry battalion marches up the line to take over a position held by another unit for upwards of twenty-four hours. Or it may be a string of purring lorries carrying home to welcome barracks weary men who have done their stretch in the field.

Darkness increases activity rather than diminishes it and the show goes on, rain or shine. The boys sleep outdoors and catnap when they can. Often a Canadian unit relieves a British one.

This phase of training was mapped out by Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, general officer commanding the First Division, and his general staff officers to approximate conditions of actual warfare. The syllabus of unit training has replaced the individual training schedule followed for the first few months by the Canadians here.

REALITY OF WAR

The exercises have all the reality of warfare, with the exception that the men do not shoot Germans and have not yet been shot at themselves. I learned this when I went out with Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry on an eighteen-hour tour of training in a heavily wooded area and in trenches.

It was just after lunch yesterday when Lieut.-Col. W. G. Colquhoun, officer commanding the Princess Pats, led his battalion away from Barracks Square. As the column walked by, Col. E. W. Sansom, commander of the 2nd Infantry Brigade, stood on the steps of his headquarters measuring every man and vehicle.

Colonel Colquhoun rode in a sedan so small you wondered how he crammed his six-foot frame into it. Behind came a swarm of machine gun carriers, their caterpillar treads thundering on the pavement. Anti-tank rifles and machine guns poked menacing snouts from each of them.

When they had growled by, the Intelligence Section and gimlet-eyed snipers led a long line of man power down the roadway. The battalion marched in platoons spaced a considerable distance apart so as to make attack from the air less profitable to an attacker.

The men had an eight-mile march to the training sector. With Colonel Sansom we doubled around them on the road and reached a crossroad in time to see them swing jauntily into the woods.

In the centre of the woods was a star formed by nine roads branching off in every direction. Colonel Colquhoun stood at the star as straight as the straightest spruce in the vicinity, proudly watching the platoons veer up one road after another until every part of the area had been taken over by troops.

RESERVE UNITS

On this exercise the Princess Pats were filling the role of a battalion held in reserve. It was their task to dig in and be prepared to defend themselves, no matter from which direction the attack might come.

The central point of activity was battalion headquarters. It was established in a large lorry specially fitted out for duty. Four men sat at a table in the truck's van. Some sifted reports that came from various companies' headquarters telling of activity and observations in their sector. One sat at a typewriter tapping out Colonel Colquhoun's orders.

On every road many hundreds of yards away from the battalion headquarters, troops were digging in. Slits large enough to protect half a dozen men were quickly cleaved in the earth for sharpshooters to lie behind their firearms and cover all approaches.

Back in a sheltered hollow, the unit's medical officer, Captain C. E. Corrigan, established a first aid post in a camouflaged tent. House had scarcely been set up when stretcher bearers dropped in with a casualty. A private who had stepped into a hole had thrown his knee out of joint. After the doctor had replaced the truant bone the casualty was laid out in a comfortable bed of tree boughs.

MOVING TROOPS

Some time before the evening meal of hot beef stew, bread, chocolate bars and tea was served the men, a dispatch came from the High Command, telling Colonel Colquhoun that the battalion must take over a new position fifteen miles away. The move started at 11 o'clock, when the blackout was at its blackest.

Earlier the countryside had been illuminated by a score of great searchlights combing the sky. They drew silvery designs on the black velvet of the night and the result was so majestic that it made one forget the danger they meant in combat. However, the means had been turned off and the woods were as black as pitch when a convoy of Royal Canadian Army Service Corps transports came whining up to move out the Pats.

The new position to which the column rolled through the night was on a hog's back hillside. Once the Canucks had manned trenches and sandbagged breastworks, patrols went out stealthily to reconnoitre the supposed enemy position and others crawled away to erect barbed wire entanglements. Tin cans were hung from the wire to clank an alarm at the slightest touch. Manoeuvres continued through the night.

Soon after dawn chased the blackout, transports rolled up to the barracks. The breakfast that awaited, big enough for any lumberjack, seemed like a banquet; warm bunks were never more welcome.

DISPLAY WILL ATTRACT MANY

Spring Flower Show of Victoria Horticultural Society To Open Tomorrow

The Spring Flower Show, which will be staged by the Victoria Horticultural Society at the Willows tomorrow and Saturday, is one of the finest shows of the year, and, it is expected, will draw a large number of flower-minded visitors.

Entries are being received in large numbers and will be accepted by the secretary, Alderman D. D. McTavish, until this afternoon.

The show will be formally opened tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Mayor McGavin, and will close on Saturday evening, when the flowers on exhibition will be sold by auction.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoons and evenings by the ladies of the Victoria Women's Institute, and on both evenings entertainment will be provided for the visitors. This is being arranged by Mrs. Ian Duncan and will be performed by members of the Highland Lassies' Pipe Band. The programme will consist of "Reel of Tulloch," "Tulloch Gorm," flings, jigs and hornpipes, and will start at 8 o'clock.

territory, allotment to these alien Germans, in defiance of all law, of goods belonging to Poles, confiscation of private and state properties, destruction and pillaging of historic and artistic monuments, deportation of young Polish men and women to Germany to do compulsory labor, closing of churches and persecution of religion — these things reveal clearly a policy deliberately aimed at destruction of the Polish nation.

ATROCIOUS TREATMENT

"To the persecution of the Poles is added the atrocious treatment inflicted on members of the Jewish community.

"This conduct by German authorities and the occupation forces is a flagrant violation of the laws of warfare and in particular of The Hague Convention concerning the laws and customs of war on land, and His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, the French Government and the Polish Government, addressing themselves to universal conscience, protest formally and publicly against the action of the German Government and its agents.

"They reaffirm Germany's responsibility for these crimes and they are determined to insure reparation for the wrongs thus inflicted on the Polish people."

The Polish "Black Book," made public today, shows Germany's "total warfare" to have included the bombing of open towns, refugee trains and civilians generally.

In a preface Edouard Herriot, President of the French Chamber of Deputies, says:

"We will believe that many consciences in Germany repudiate such infamies. We leave off reading filled with disgust and shame that in our epoch men who have practised such crimes can still lead a people which pretends to be civilized."

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., April 17 (CP).—Two residents of this Essex county town were burned to death or suffocated tonight when a frame boathouse was destroyed by fire. The dead are Arthur Healey, fifty-two, and Percy Kelly, twenty-five.

VICTORY MUST BE COMPLETE

Lord Gowrie Makes Inspiring Speech When Opening Australian Parliament

CANBERRA, April 17 (CP).—A decisive victory for the Allies is essential to prevent all small nations of the world, including Australia, from meeting the fate of Denmark and Norway, said the Speech from the Throne read by Lord Gowrie, Governor-General of Australia, today at the opening of the Federal Parliament.

The speech said Australian land, sea and air forces are co-operating with the Allies and that the public would have to share the Empire's war effort by bearing increased taxation and subscribing to Government war loans.

"While we are all confident of ultimate success," it said, "there can be no doubt that the situation is grave."

From Australia's entry into the war at the side of Great Britain, the Australian navy has co-operated with the Royal Navy in the protection of trade routes, the speech said, adding that a naval expeditionary force is in the process of formation.

It recalled that a substantial portion of the First Division of the Second Australian Expeditionary Force already is abroad and that Australian airmen are on active service in and around Great Britain, while thousands of other flyers are preparing for service under the Empire air scheme.

Hill, deputy supreme royal matron for British Columbia. Assisting in serving were Mrs. A. J. Hourston and Miss Eittie Neelands.

Music Composed By Local Student

A highlight of the annual Spring plays to be presented by the students of the Victoria Normal School on April 26 will be an original musical written and directed by Alan Batey, a leading member of the school's dramatic and debating society.

The short musical finds its setting in the slums of New York, where a youth, son of a poverty-stricken and widowed mother, envisions in his dreams exerpts from a book of grand opera. The dramatic dream will unfold with a background of delightful selections from the works of such masters as Vaugner, Balfe, Leonchavello and Bizet. A thirty-five-voice male choir will bring the one-act play to a close, singing Vaugner's "Pilgrims' Chorus."

Two other plays will be presented at the same time. The dramatic and debating work of the student teachers is under the supervision of Mrs. Reese Burns, well known in dramatic circles.

Correct Constipation Before—Not After!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why let yourself suffer those dull, lifeless days because of constipation, why bring on the need for emergency medicines, when there may be a far better way? That way is to KEEP regular by getting at the cause of the trouble.

If it's common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, a pleasant, nutritious, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—goes straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this crunchy, toasted cereal regularly, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in London, Canada. Sold by all grocers, in two convenient sizes.

As this is the annual guest day of the club, members are priviledged to bring guests to hear this lecture. Mr. Griffiths will be the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. C. O. Warn.

ALLIES JOIN IN OFFENSIVE

mans considered the new Oslo regime as the bona fide Government of Norway and not merely an interim regime.

The Swedish position remains one of a "neutrality guard" of border districts.

BUSY IN SWEDEN

Air raid shelter construction and air raid precaution work is being rushed throughout Sweden and troops are seen here and there, marching through the streets.

The Norwegian commander-in-chief issued a communique saying the Norwegians were holding their positions on both sides of the long lake, Mjosen, which stretches south of Hamar, and that the Fosseim fortress, seventy miles west of Hamar in Central Norway, still was in Norwegian hands.

In the Begna Valley, however, he admitted the "enemy had some success," and that in the Hadeland district, just south of Lake Mjosen, the Norwegians retreated to new positions.

CROSS THE BORDER

Norwegian troops in Ostfold Province—the area east of Oslo—he said, had crossed the Swedish border under General Erichsen and surrendered to the Swedes for internment.

"On all fronts we took prisoners, probably about 150. Several German planes were shot down," the communique said.

STAVANGER BADLY BATTERED BY NAVY

North Sea operations and is presumed lost with her complement of fifty-three men. She is the fifth British submarine loss of the war.

FIRST BOMBARDMENT

It was the first time during the war that naval officers bombarded land objectives, the British raid on Narvik last Saturday being regarded as an assault. It is understood Stavanger was protected by shore batteries, but the Admiralty communique made no mention of them.

Stavanger was one of the first objectives of the German invasion. Nazi planes landed there within the first few hours after sea forces took possession of it on April 9. It not only has great strategic value in the Norwegian campaign, but it could be used to cut many miles off the German air route to the Orkneys, the Shetlands and the Scottish mainland.

For that reason the R.A.F. has pounded Stavanger seven times since last Tuesday.

TRONDHJEM ATTACKED

Today's naval raid was made while the airmen were switching their attention to the Trondhjem airport, farther up the coast, in the joint effort to cripple Germany's air bases in South and Central Norway, while the Allied land forces are manoeuvring south to come to grips with the German army.

Heavy bombers pelted the Trondhjem airdrome with explosives and attacked a seaplane base in the vicinity. The Air Ministry said a large fire broke out in the vicinity of the airdrome.

Britain ignored a German list of so-called British setbacks, including the sinking of a destroyer and of a cruiser, and direct bomb hits on a battleship, two cruisers and a transport. Sir Victor Warrender, parliamentary secretay to the Admiralty, told the House of Commons that Germany circulated such claims in the hope that British denials might supply valuable information.

About the only mention of further Allied advances on Norwegian soil was a Paris report that France is sending 20,000 men to the North. Some military men here expressed belief that the Allied landing forces are pushing south from the Arctic ore port of Narvik toward Trondhjem, which lies a good distance inland at the end of a long, narrow and rocky fjord.

NEW MINE FIELD LAID

The Admiralty announced it has laid a mine field off the British West Coast to protect the vital Clyde area, which includes the Clydebank shipyards, birthplace of many of Britain's warships and liners, and Greenock, another important port to the navy. The mine field is twenty-three miles across at its northern limit, and widens to twenty-five miles in the south.

Britain detained six Swedish, fourteen Norwegian and seven Danish ships at contraband control stations under orders from the Ministry of Economic Warfare.

As a result of Hitler's Scandinavian adventure, Britain is forced to seek alternative sources of many products. Official sources state there will be no difficulty maintaining continuity of supplies from these, but that longer hauls will place additional burdens on shipping.

Canada is expected to increase her shipments of bacon, timber, woodpulp and possibly iron ore, while Australia and New Zealand will take Denmark's place as the source of Britain's butter. Danish and Norwegian shipping will prove valuable to offset these longer hauls.

BLUECHER SINKING DESCRIBED BY NAZI

the engines giving everything they had. The Bluecher was advancing toward Norway at full speed. We arrived at the entry to the fjord in the night. We knew we had to go through narrow inlets, difficult to navigate. The debarkation was to take place in the early morning.

"At 5 a.m. reveille sounded. The company, fully equipped, waited. The Bluecher still moved forward.

SURPRISED AT EVENTS

"Suddenly there was a cannon shot in the blackness of the night. From the coast a few hundred yards away a searchlight caught us in its beams of light. Were they going to greet us as enemies? That was the first time we asked that question.

"After the first gunshot, silence fell again, but on the ship the order 'battle station' was given. The engines slowed down.

"All of a sudden a heavy detonation shook the warship. The men fell over one another in disorder. The alarm bell began to ring and then more detonations followed. This time the Bluecher's guns were firing.

"Thus the fight started. My comrades and myself, condemned to inaction, asked ourselves again what was happening. Then came another detonation, different this time from the gunfire around us, and a terrible jolt. The ship had been hit.

SMASHED BY GUNFIRE

"The bulkhead of the deck on which we were standing was smashed in by gunfire. I heard cries from comrades who had been wounded. A thick pall of smoke was spreading.

"'Adjust gas masks!' a voice shouted. The fumes of burning oil were surrounding us. The engines had been hit. The infantrymen gathered on deck could hardly keep their balance. Medical squads were carrying away the wounded.

"For several minutes the Bluecher's guns had been silent. We heard below us the sailors running up to the deck. Little by little we felt the ship listing to port. We couldn't stand up any longer.

"A naval officer came down from the bridge to tell us to keep calm and that the ship couldn't sink instantly.

"Fifteen minutes later came the order 'All on deck.' Day was beginning to break. We saw that we were between two rocky islands and the steep cliffs of the fjord's coast.

ORDERED TO BOATS

"All the ship's crew and the landing company were assembled on the foredeck. The sailors lowered the boats and we put on lifebelts. A few minutes more of anxious waiting. Then: 'Everyone in the boats!'

"The wounded were taken off first. A naval officer explained to the infantrymen how to jump into the boats. In their haste a few forgot to get rid o ftheir heavy equipment and fell into the water. We could hear their shouts for help as they went under.

"Finally came the last command: 'Everybody jump!' A sub-officer hoisted the war ensign. The commander and admiral remained to the last.

"The water was icy. The 300 yards that separated us from islands in the middle of the fjord seemed a terrible distance to me. The cold numbed me.

"Near me I saw comrades go down in the ice-cold water. Finally, after a few minutes, which seemed like centuries, the shore neared. I put my feet on the rocks of the small island. Then I turned around.

BLUECHER DISAPPEARS

"The Bluecher was a mass of flames and black smoke and was sinking. Soon she disappeared, but for a few moments flames covered the sea.

"Those who managed to reach the island began to assemble. 'Keep moving!' the officers ordered the benumbed men.

"Several of my friends collapsed, exhausted by the effort, and died on the shore. We waited for hours, frozen, trying to dry ourselves.

"The Bluecher had been half a day ahead of the other ships in the convoy. About noon planes appeared overhead and dropped bombs on us.

"Meanwhile we began to organize service for the wounded and sick. Boats began shuttling back and forth between the islands and the coast. In the afternoon operations were interrupted by a Norwegian police patrol boat. This vessel, however, turned away after seeing what the situation was.

"By nightfall everyone had been taken to shore and some of us were taken aboard the ships which followed the Bluecher. Others got to the Norwegian capital painfully on foot, across the rocks of the fjord. When we arrived Oslo already had been occupied."

He was taken prisoner in subsequent fighting.

Weddings

AGNEW—WALLACE

Apple blossom and white lilac, arranged in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, formed a fragrant and Springlike setting for the marriage of Angusine MacAllister (Ina), youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus M. Wallace, 357 Chester Avenue, and Mr. Robert Agnew, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Agnew, Ayrshire, Scotland, which took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. J. L. W. McLean in the presence of a large congregation, and the wedding marches were played by Mr. Cyril Warren, who also rendered "O Promise Me," as the register was being signed. Posies of flowers tied with white tulle were attached to the pews, to which the guests were escorted by Messrs. William Hamilton, Jack King and John Wallace, brother of the bride.

A princess frock of starched white lace over taffeta, with a train and long, pointed sleeves, was worn by the bride, who was given away by her father. The bodice was fastened, from the round neckline in front, with tiny satin buttons to the waist. The bridal veil of Brussels net fell from a tiara of orange blossoms, and the lovely sheaf bouquet was composed of Ophelia roses, lily of the valley and white heather.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Nessie Wallace, in a frock of Queen's blue chiffon, with a shirred waistline, worn with a puff-sleeved shirred jacket, a tiny hat of blue mohair with a crown of yellow flowers, and yellow ribbon streamers down the back, and yellow mittens. The bridesmaid was Miss Zelma Wille, in a similar frock of daffodil yellow chiffon, with accessories in the contrasting color. They both carried bouquets of buttercup tulips, and yellow and blue iris. Mr. Edward Burnett, R.C.N., was best man.

The reception was held in the lower ballroom at the Crystal Garden, during which the bride and groom stood under an archway of apple blossom and white lilac. Mrs. Wallace welcomed the guests in a becoming jacket frock of amethyst suede lace with a matching straw hat trimmed with amethyst and yellow pansies and a large bow at the back, and also wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia rosebuds. Receiving with her were her sisters, Mrs. A. King, in a dove rose sheer ensemble with hat en suite, and a corsage spray of pink carnations, and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, in a gown of navy blue sheer with the neck and waist outlined with white daisies, a navy blue tulle hat trimmed with daisies, and a corsage bouquet of white carnations. A three-tiered cake centred the supper table, which was decorated with small crystal vases of pink tulips and white narcissi.

After a honeymoon spent at Harrison Hot Springs, for which the bride left in a dove rose dress, a "heavenly" blue hat, black accessories and a kid caracul coat, Mr. and Mrs. Agnew will return to Victoria to live. Mrs. Cyril Onions and Mrs. Joseph Almond, Vancouver, were guests at the wedding.

FRASER—THORNE

The marriage of Mary E. Thorne, daughter of Mrs. E. Thorne, Verrinder Avenue, Victoria, and the late Mr. Yoell Thorne, Oak Bay, and Mr. Charles P. Fraser, of the First Divisional Dental Company, C.A.F.S., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, Fort Street, Victoria, took place on March 9 at Farnborough, Hants, England. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will live at "White Posts," Farnborough, England.

Chick Bolero and Suntan Frock

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern No. 4410.

COULD anything "under the sun" be smarter than this spirited new sun outfit, designed by Anne Adams? Every line of Pattern 4410 makes fashion news! First of all, there's a smart, low sun-tan back. Then, the front skirt panels, curving high up on the bodice at either side, are cut on the bias for trim, smooth waist fit and to give generous flare in the skirt below. And the back-buttoning is both decorative and convenient for double-quick donning and flat-spread ironing. Don't miss the jaunty bolero which tops off the whole costume, adding to its roundabout usefulness. Why not make it of a vivid contrast?

Pattern 4410 is available in junior miss sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17. Size 13, dress, takes 3¾ yards 35-inch fabric; bolero, 1⅛ yards of contrast.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, Victoria, B.C.

According to Culbertson

In the majority of hands the defenders can form only a tentative plan of defence which is subject to repeated change as the play gradually develops. In other hands, however, it is not difficult to forsee at the very outset what is certain to transpire toward the end of the hand, and in those cases the full campaign must be mapped out at the start.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	♦ 2	Double	2 ♥
3 ♠	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

West was by no means satisfied with his own choice of a two diamond bid over the opening spade, but he was afraid of a take-out double because of his shortness in the other major suit, hearts, and could not see how a three diamond bid could improve the situation since again it was an odds-on chance that his partner would respond with hearts. East's rescue, despite his trickless hand, was not bad. He could clearly see that in diamonds his hand could not produce a single trick, whereas if he found partner with even two hearts, his six card suit might produce as many as four tricks. South had a close question to decide: whether to double two hearts or to bid for game in spades, taking advantage of his own 30 part-score. His choice could not be censured, but he should have given more thought to the subsequent play.

West opened the diamond king, dummy won, and declarer promptly proceeded to lay himself wide open by taking a trump finesse to the jack. It is true that very few players in the West position would have had the skill to take advantage of this slip, but this particular West was a master of defence. Upon winning the spade queen, he led not a diamond honor, but the six of diamonds. The beauty of this play will become apparent as the analysis proceeds. Declarer overruffed East's ruff, led the ace of spades, and then knocked out the ace of hearts. This time West continued with the diamond queen. Again declarer ruffed, and now he cleared away the club ace. The jack of diamonds came back and declarer had to use his next to last trump, which left him with the blank king. He cashed one club trick, but West ruffed in on the next lead, and the ruff of the ten of diamonds now took declarer's last trump. West ruffed declarer's next lead and cashed his good diamond for the second setting trick.

The hand was extremely interesting from two different angles. First, had declarer properly disdained the trump finesse, laying down the ace and king thereby leaving West with two trump tricks, then had gone about his business of clearing away the aces of hearts and clubs, no defence whatever could have taken more than four tricks. After the spade finesse, however, it still required West's brilliant underlead of his remaining three diamond honors to defeat the contract at all.

Born Here Eighty-Two Years Ago

Mrs. Angelique Plump, who was born on Vancouver Island eighty-two years ago, had a happy afternoon yesterday, when hosts of relatives and friends called at her home at 828 Cormorant Street to felicitate her on her birthday.

Mrs. Plump's father, one of the fifteen men to come to Victoria with Sir James Douglas, was allotted twenty-seven acres of land for a homestead in the Coultas district, now called Burnside, because of the disastrous fire that occurred there. Mrs. Plump, whose memory goes back to the time when she was only six years old, was one of the early scholars at the old Craigflower School, taught by Mr. Fisher.

The charming old lady, who has never been off the Island, has seen many changes here since the days when the Island was "nothing but bush and sheep trails." Many a ride to church by ox cart she and her mother had in the early days of settlement.

FIVE GENERATIONS

Mrs. Plump first married the late John Stevens, assistant engineer of the old volunteer fire department, and raised ten children. "There are five generations of us here on the Island," she said. Living in Victoria are two sons and a daughter, Alex Stevens and H. F. "Toots" Plump, and Mrs. Mayme Finn, whose husband was bandmaster of the original 5th Regiment Band.

At eighty-two, Mrs. Plump enjoys life to the full, is in possession of all her faculties, and takes a keen interest in the affairs of the day.

"I do my own cooking, washing and shopping, and remodel my hats, coats and dresses," she said with pride. "I enjoy good music—and I love dancing."

Shower Given In Duncan for Miss B. Thorpe

DUNCAN, April 17.—Mrs. E. M. Waldie and her sister, Miss Ina Castley, were hostesses last night at a miscellaneous shower at Mrs. Waldie's home, in honor of Miss Bernice Thorpe, whose marriage to Mr. Bernard Brown is scheduled for early in May. Miss Thorpe was presented with corsage bouquet of carnations. The decorations were carried out in green and yellow, daffodils and yellow daisies being effectively used. The gifts were presented in a green clothes hamper, which stood on a low stand covered with a green and silver cloth, flanked by vases of yellow flowers.

Court whist was played, the winner being Mrs. Claude Green. An amusing quiz competition ended in a tie between Misses Isabel McFadyen and Phyllis Fox, who divided the prize.

Supper was served at an attractively decorated table carrying out the color scheme of green and yellow.

Among the guests were Mesdames R. A. Thorpe, O. C. Brown, C. Green, H. Hanson, D. Butt, A. Campbell, A. Colk, S. Stock, W. O. Brown, C. de C. Johnson, B. Haynes; Misses G. Castley, F. Mains, P. Fox, I. McFadyen, Olga Schwengers, Eileen Johnson, E. Langlois, Pearl Symons, A. and K. Brown, Aline and Myrtle Thorpe, and Kathleen Castley.

DOCTOR'S ORDERS

"I'm all out of sorts. The doctor said the only way to cure my rheumatism was to keep away from all dampness." "What's so tough about that?" "You don't know how silly it makes me feel to sit in an empty bathtub and go over myself with a vacuum cleaner."

REVELSTOKE MAN IN R.A.F. MISSING

Sergeant George Perry Believed to Have Taken Part in Action In Norway

REVELSTOKE, April 17 (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Perry, of Revelstoke, yesterday received word from the British War Office at London that their son, Sgt. George Perry, of the Royal Air Force, has been missing since yesterday following an air engagement.

The War Office cable did not state where the engagement took place, but it was believed here to have been in the Norwegian area.

Sgt. Perry, twenty-eight, was born in Revelstoke and left here a year ago for England, where he joined the Royal Air Force. Previously he had taken flying and technical instruction at Vancouver and Winnipeg.

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If April 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

People will perhaps be predisposed on this date to do considerable haggling over the prices asked for the commodities they need without giving quality or special service the slightest consideration, which will be decidedly unfair. Retentive memories will have indelibly stamped upon them flagrant cases of discourtesy, and sooner or later persons who are guilty of it will be forcefully, as well as unpleasantly reminded of their rudeness, so it is advisable to let politeness characterize both your words and actions. Only through the exercise of firmness can you expect to regulate your personal affairs properly, maintain the respect you are entitled to, and rectify the mistaken policies practiced by those who would take advantage of your good nature. You may find that the average person will prefer to offer an excuse rather than do what he is told on this date, for the most generally prevailing characteristic is apt to be a desire to procrastinate. A great deal seems likely to depend upon the promptness with which answers are given to oral or written questions, as delays are liable to result in many disturbing episodes. Married and engaged couples, and the lovesick may find that the best antidote for quarreling will be good-natured bantering.

If you are a woman and April 18 is your birthday, your headstrong determination to have your own way is apt to be more of a handicap than a help to you in the furthering of your ambitions. You will make a serious mistake if you take too many people into your confidence regarding any future plans, for they might unintentionally reveal many things you wish to remain unknown. In all likelihood you have many meritorious ideas that need only to be put into practice to reap a well-deserved reward. Your accomplishments as a teacher, trained nurse, modiste, milliner, musician, artist, demonstrator, publicity woman, actress, or sales promoter may be outstanding and attract a gratifying amount of attention.

The child born on April 18 possesses, as a rule, an exceptional amount of common sense and good judgment for its age. This youngster's parent's may be inclined to think perpetual motion has nothing on this child when it comes to an exhibition of ceaseless energy.

If you are a man and April 18 is your natal day, some interest outside of your profession is likely to help you to become widely known. Through personality and graciousness of manner you can make your way to success much easier, so concentrate on developing both. Your efforts as a research worker, educator, agriculturist, florist, jurist, clergyman, physician, inventor, engineer, actor, author, or sales representative should be well compensated for and highly praised.

B.C. OFFICER IS RETIRING

Inspt. John Shirras to Become Assistant Commissioner Of Provincial Police

Inspector John Shirras, for years chief constable at Nanaimo, will become assistant commissioner of the British Columbia Police on the retirement at June 1 of Assistant Commissioner J. Forbes Cruickshank, it was announced yesterday by Attorney-General Wismer. Mr. Shirras will be second in command, under Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons, in charge of the force.

Both men have had long connection with police work in this province, Assistant Commissioner Cruickshank latterly at Vancouver, where he was also in charge of "E" Division, and Inspector Shirras at Kamloops. The former became well known for his outstanding work while at the head of the Vancouver criminal investigation branch of the force during the Beryl G. murder case, and in other major trials of a past decade.

HAVE LONG SERVICE

Born at Aberdeen, Scotland, Mr. Cruickshank served with the Dundee police before coming to Canada, where he secured work in Winnipeg with both police and fire departments there. He joined the Provincial Police in 1917 and a year later became acting chief constable in charge of the Vancouver district. In 1924 he became sub-inspector and in 1925 inspector, serving later at Nelson and in the Kootenays, before returning to take charge of the Vancouver division. He was for some years in charge of the Vancouver detective bureau of the force and on June 1 last year was promoted to be assistant commissioner.

Inspector John Shirras, who will succeed him, was also born in Scotland, coming to British Columbia in 1911. He joined the Nanaimo City Police Force, went overseas to serve in the Great War and returned wounded. In 1918 he became chief constable at Nanaimo, entering the Provincial service in 1926 when Nanaimo city police were absorbed into the British Columbia force. With service at Prince George, Vancouver and Prince Rupert since, Inspector Shirras is at present in charge of the Kamloops division of the Provincial Police.

It was not announced who will succeed at Kamloops after June 1.

Officer (to man pacing the sidewalk at 3 o'clock in the morning)—What are you doing here?

Gentleman—I forgot my key, officer, and I'm waiting for my children to come home and let me in.

EXTEND CLOSING DATE FOR ENTRIES TO SHOW

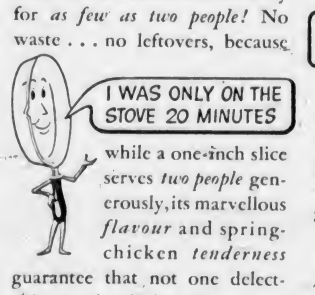

Alderman Duncan D. McTavish, secretary of the Victoria Horticultural Society, announced last night that owing to the late issue of the catalogue, entries for the society's Spring flower show, to be held at the Willows on Friday and Saturday, will be accepted up to this afternoon.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Horns That Are Really Not Horns

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"If you are so fond of the cold I don't see what you leave the Far North at all for," said Peter Rabbit to Snowflake the Snow Bunting.

"Because, Peter," replied Snowflake, twittering merrily, "I like everybody else I have to eat in order to live. When you see me down here you may know that the snow up North is so deep that it has covered all the seeds. I hope I will not have to go any farther south than this, but if some morning you wake up and find the snow so deep that all the weeds are buried, don't expect to find me."

"That's what I'd call good, sound common sense," said another voice, and a bird very near Snowflake's size, and who at first glance seemed to be dressed almost wholly in soft chocolate brown, alighted on the snow and began to run around in search of seeds. It was Wanderer the Horned Lark. Peter had known him ever since his first Winter, yet did not feel really acquainted, for Wanderer seldom stayed long enough for a real acquaintance.

Now, as Wanderer reached up to pick seeds from a weed top, Peter had a good look at him. The first thing he noticed was what looked like two little horns above and behind the eyes. It is from these that Wanderer gets the name of Horned Lark. Of course they are not really horns at all, but little tufts of black feathers. His forehead, a line over each eye, and his throat were yellow. There was a black mark from each corner of his bill curving downward and almost joining a black crescent-shaped band across the breast. Beneath this he was soiled white with dusky spots showing here and there. His back was brown in places, having almost a pinkish tinge. His tail was black, showing a little white along the edges when he flew. Altogether he was a handsome little fellow.

It was Wanderer the Horned Lark.

"Do all of your family have those funny little horns?" asked Peter.

"No," replied Wanderer promptly. "Mrs. Lark does not have them."

"I think they are very becoming," said Peter politely.

"Thank you," replied Wanderer. "I am inclined to agree with you."

Just then Peter discovered something he hadn't noticed before. "My goodness," he exclaimed, "what a long claw you have on each hind toe!"

It was true. Each hind claw was about twice as long as any other claw. Peter couldn't see any special use for these, and was just about to ask more about them when Wanderer suddenly spied a flock of his relatives some distance away and flew over to join them. Probably this saved him some embarrassment, for it was doubtful if he himself knew why Old Mother Nature had given him those long hind claws.

REV. A. E. WHITEHOUSE, B.A., B.D.

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, pastor of Metropolitan United Church, will receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Wesley College, Winnipeg, at a convocation being held there today. Mr. Whitehouse, who was ordained at the same college in 1915, left a few days ago with Mrs. Whitehouse for the Manitoba capital.

Mr. Whitehouse was born in Birmingham, England, and spent his boyhood in Kent before coming to Canada in 1906. He spent some years in Eastern Canada before going to Winnipeg to attend the University of Manitoba and Wesley College.

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP).—The promotion of Brigadier-General Victor W. Odlum, Vancouver, already designated as commander of the 2nd Division, Canadian Active Service Force, to the rank of major-general, and appointment of Major-General H. F. H. Hertzberg as acting adjutant-general at national defence headquarters, was announced today by the Department of National Defence.

General Odlum's appointment as inspector-general of the units of the 2nd Division also was announced. He will act in that capacity until the division is assembled under his command.

General Hertzberg was quartermaster-general up until his present appointment as acting adjutant-general, in which he will serve during the absence of Major-General H. M. Matthews, on sick leave.

Brigadier E. J. C. Schmidlin, director of the engineer service, has been appointed acting quartermaster-general while General Hertzberg is serving in the other post.

Replete with all the thrills and excitement of Warner Bros. Westerns, this picture also boasts the mightiest cattle stampede ever screened anywhere. In order to do away with Wayne, the rustlers cause a gigantic herd of cattle to stampede in his direction.

FILM UNFOLDS ON DESOLATE MOORS

"Wuthering Heights" Is Tale of High-Spirited Girl Who Is Loved by Two Men

The story of "Wuthering Heights," which opens today at the Cadet Theatre, unfolds on the wild and desolate moors of Yorkshire. It is a tale of a high-spirited, quick-tempered, beautiful girl, who is loved madly by two men, one, half-gypsy and half-gentleman, the other rich and well born.

Merle Oberon, playing Cathy, is desperately in love with Laurence Olivier, playing Heathcliff. But the glittering wealth and esteemed social position of Edgar Linton, portrayed by David Niven, leads the girl into an unhappy romance. The strange three-cornered love story is told with dramatic impact, sweeping romance and in terms of stark human emotions, mysteriously influenced by the desolate moors.

"BALALAIKA" NOW ON ATLAS SCREEN

Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey Co-Star in Thrilling Musical Adventure Film

Blazing a musical trail from Petrograd to Paris over the strife-torn Russia of the Czars, the screen operetta, "Balalaika," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre, presents Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey, Hollywood's newest singing star, in a thrilling, colorful and romantic musical drama.

It tells a tale of romance between a Colonel of Cossacks and the daughter of a revolutionist in the midst of social upheaval, and gives an opportunity for an expensive musical programme that ranges from Russian folk songs to a love song by Franz Lehar.

DOMINION THEATRE Headed by an all-star cast, including Pat O'Brien, Ruth Terry and Edward Arnold, Walter Wanger's "Slightly Honorable," a streamlined story of society scandal, which ends today at the Dominion Theatre, has won the enthusiastic plaudits of capacity audiences.

PLAZA THEATRE Teamed together for the first time, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Joan Bennet are said to make one of the most striking romantic couples ever seen in a motion picture. They are seen in "Green Hell," which is now showing at the Plaza Theatre.

STUDENTS HOLD TALENT PARADE

Entertaining Variety Show Staged by Victoria High School Pupils

Students of the Victoria High School displayed their versatility last night in staging "Talent Parade," a splendid variety show of thirteen items, embracing drama, music, dancing and tumbling, before a large audience in the school assembly hall.

Hundreds of students, their parents and friends crowded the auditorium, and distributed their applause with an impartiality that must have encouraged the performers. Trustees P. E. George, F. A. Willis and Mrs. A. S. Christie were present, along with the school principal and members of the staff.

Without visible direction, the programme was run off with a professional smoothness that indicated careful rehearsal and marked ability by the youthful artists. Over a hundred students, representing classes of all years, took part.

GUSTO WAS INFECTIOUS

The tempo of the evening was set by twenty boys, under R. Whitehouse, lined on the stage under the spotlight when they sang and whistled the school song, recently written by Al Westlake and Ted Shadbolt, with a gusto that was infectious. The same group provoked storms of laughter when they returned later in the programme to sing a number of sea chanteys, garbed in semi-pirate dress, and forming as motley a crew as ever sailed the high seas.

Tap and toe dancing by Lois Russell, and songs by Leonard Weaver, Peggy Butterfield and Norton Welch featured a delightful southern scene, full of charm and atmosphere. Also full of tropical atmosphere was a Hawaiian interlude, spiced by hula dancing by Myra Batchelor, and solos by Marjorie Timberlake and Elaine Harte, with Jack Lee at the guitar.

CLEVER ACROBATICS

A tumbling team of eleven stalwart youths drew rounds of applause as they displayed a number of clever acrobatic tricks and pyramids, contrasting vividly with the statuesque grace of the group of girls' who presented a sports tableaux, appropriately dressed, featuring Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.

First-year girls showed up well in folk dances that exhibited Irish, American, Scottish and Danish national favorites; Ted Shadbolt got a big hand for his piano solos, and also accompanied Orville Speed when the latter made his banjo strum with "Twelfth Street Rag," which caused hundreds of feet to beat in enthusiastic unison.

Phyllis Hick and Bernard Hick teamed up to perfection in a piano duet that had the audience clamoring for more, and the nineteen-piece school orchestra of boys and girls entertained harmoniously with selections between items.

A one-act play, "The Neighbors," Zona Gale's account of a Mid-Western town in 1910, delightfully portrayed by a group of eight students, brought the evening to a close.

The V.H.S. students will parade their talent again tonight at 8 o'clock.

BECOME MEMBERS OF A.O.F. GROUP

Colorful Initiation Ceremonies Held By Order on Monday Evening

Approximately 175 members of the Ancient Order of Foresters gathered in the Foresters' Hall on Monday evening to witness initiation ceremonies performed by "Robin Hood and His Merry Men," suitably attired. Every detail was carried out exactly as it was 700 years ago. New candidates took their vow on a carpet of grass beneath spreading oak and scrub oak trees, representing Sherwood Forest.

The ladies' drill team of Court Progress, Nanaimo, escorted Robin Hood and his followers, who were attired in uniforms of scarlet, gold and Lincoln green, into the large room.

H. Adams, chief ranger of Court Vancouver, thanked the degree team and the drill team for their excellent demonstrations. Chief rangers of the various courts on the Island were present.

A buffet supper was served following the meeting, and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

VANCOUVER CAGERS IN WESTERN CANADA FINAL

Yanks Turn Back Athletics, 4-1, to Win First Tussle

Monte Pearson Pitches World Champions to Triumph Over Connie Mack's Crew—Charlie Keller Star of Game With a Homer and Single —Rest of Games Are Postponed

PHILADELPHIA, April 17 (AP).—The world champion New York Yankees slipped into the groove today to whip the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-1, on the four-hit pitching of Monte Pearson and the slugging of Charley Keller.

The sophomore outfielder led off in the sixth with a home run, batted in another score with a single and tallied once after drawing a base on balls.

The Yankees took control of the game in the fourth inning with their first run on Keller's walk and singles by Bill Dickey and Joe Gordon. They sewed it up with their final two runs in the seventh. Babe Dahlgren waited out a walk, Pearson sacrificed, Frank Crosetti singled and "Red" Rolfe forced Crosetti to let in one of the runs. Then George Selkirk and Keller singled to bring in the other.

Pearson allowed only one hit, a single by Bill Lillard, in the first five frames, but the Athletics escaped a shutout with a run in the sixth when Benny McCoy doubled and Wally Moses brought him home with a single to centre field.

The A's other hit was a single by Dick Siebert in the seventh. Pearson struck out five and allowed only two bases on balls in giving a mid-season pitching performance.

The Yankees were permitted only seven hits by Nelson Potter before he was removed for a pinch-hitter in the eighth and got none off Bill Beckman in the ninth, but, as usual, made the most of what they obtained.

The day's seven other scheduled major league games were postponed because of unfavorable weather, nd even this one contest was played in raw, cold conditions that held the crowd down to an estimated 4,000.

Pacific Coast League Leadership at Stake

Victoria Will Oppose North Shore United in Crucial Soccer Match on Saturday at Royal Athletic Park—Local Team Will Be at Full Strength

Resting at the top of the Pacific Coast Football League standings, one point ahead of the smart North Shore United, Victoria will entertain the redshirts in the season's most important fixture Saturday afternoon at Royal Athletic Park. Dave McMillan, local arbiter, will officiate and the game will get under way at 3 o'clock.

Rated by soccer critics as the smartest and most-balanced team in the Coast circuit, North Shore can overtake the pacesetters if they finish on the right side of the score sheet in Saturday's crucial encounter. The North Vancouver footballers have made big strides up the standings since the early season's play and right now must be considered as Victoria's most-feared opponents.

The fixture has all the earmarks of a championship attraction, as the winner will practically clinch the Pacific Coast League laurels for the 1939-40 season. Victoria, with a single-point lead and one game to play, must defeat the visitors or say good-bye to their title aspirations. North Shore, with one game in hand, will replace the locals at the top of the standings if they take the decision, and put themselves in such a position that they will be hard to dislodge.

SHORES HAVE EDGE

Three times this season these two teams have met, twice on the Victoria battlefront and once on the Mainland. North Shore has the edge, having scored two victories to the locals single triumph. Redshirts defeated Victoria, 7-1, at Royal Athletic Park, and 3-1 at Vancouver, with the aid of two penalties. At the Caledonia Avenue lot, locals turned back North Shore, 5-1, on Boxing Day, and feel confident of repeating that success in Saturday's important encounter.

Victoria held a workout last night at Royal Athletic Park, and following the training session Dr. Poyntz, local manager, stated that he would have his club at full strength for the season's classic against the redshirts. Bobby Moss' knee injury is fully recovered, and Jimmy Worswick, now on the Mainland, will be here for the match. All of the remaining regulars are ready for action.

The probable starting line-up was announced last night as follows: Bobby Moss; Arnie Wilkinson and Bobby Bell; Harold Sage, Glen Robbins and Roy Barnes; Tony Hope, Gordon Bell, Jimmy Worswick, Noel Morgan and Ralph Cosier. Subs: Alan Reside and Cliff Robbins.

GAME SUNDAY

Victoria West and Esquimalt, first division soccer elevens, will meet in the semi-final round of the Jackson Cup, Sunday, at Bullen Park. The match will get under way at 2:30 o'clock, with T. M. Robb tooting the whistle.

Esquimalt defeated Victoria City last week in a first round match, while the greenshirts drew an initial round bye.

DUNCAN GOLFERS SCORE VICTORY

ROTHERHAM WINS

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Rotherham United and Walsall will play in the first round of the English Football League War Cup on Saturday. Defeating Doncaster Rovers, 1-0, in a replayed preliminary round match today, Rotherham qualified to meet Sheffield United, and Walsall smashed Port Vale, 6-0, in another replay for the right to oppose Swansea Town.

At the week-end, Rotherham and Doncaster battled to a scoreless draw, and the Port Vale-Walsall game ended in a 2-2 deadlock.

Hearts defeated St. Bernards, 2-0, in a Scottish Eastern regional group contest played on the latter's ground today.

Vopel and Audy Leading Six-Day Pittsburgh Race

PITTSBURGH, April 17 (AP).—Five teams were tied for the lead in the six-day bicycle race tonight at the end of seventy hours, with the German-Canadian pair of Heinz Vopc and Jules Audy getting top ranking because they had scored 308 points.

The other leaders, all of whom had covered 1,089 miles, seven laps, were Crossley-Kilian, with 263 points; O'Brien-Bollaert, 235 points; Bergna-Rodman, 223 points, and Walthour-Thomas, 188 points.

Arch Bollaert fell and hurt his arm when a tire on his bike blew out early tonight, causing a twenty-minute slow down.

AMBERS WINS FIGHT EASILY

Lightweight Boxing Champion Trims Wally Hally Without Trouble

DENVER, April 17 (AP).—Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers, landing a murderous left almost at will, punched out a ten-round decision over Wally Hally, of Hollywood, in a non-title boxing match tonight. Ambers weighed 139, Hally 140. The crowd of 2,500 was below expectations.

Hally had no defence against Ambers' tireless left jab and after every round his face looked as though it had been whipped with a razor strop.

The Herkimer, N.Y., veteran made his most furious assault in the sixth round when he piled the Californian into the ropes with a long right hook after opening the way with his portside thrusts.

Hally, who claims he never has been knocked out in a lengthy fisticuffing career, looked shaken, but he rallied quickly and landed two-handed shots of his own.

Purcell Defeated By American Star

PASADENA, Calif., April 17 (AP).—David Freeman, of Pasadena, national amateur badminton champion, defeated Jack Purcell, of Toronto, Ont., claimant of the world's professional title, in a match here tonight, 10-15, 15-2, 18-14.

It was the second meeting of the two players in Southern California, Freeman having won at Santa Barbara.

B.C. TITLEHOLDERS DEFEAT ALBERTANS IN THE PLAY-DOWNS

Maple Leafs Advance to Western Final by Scoring 41-27 Victory Over Magrath Club on the Prairies—Win Series by Comfortable Margin—Will Face Winnipeg St. Andrews

MAGRATH, Alta., April 17 (CP).—Vancouver Maple Leafs, seeking the tenth Canadian senior men's basketball championship for British Columbia, tonight advanced to the Western Canada final by downing Magrath Lions, Alberta's champions, 41-27, to take the two-game total-point playdown series 97-71.

Leafs will meet Winnipeg St. Andrew's at Winnipeg, April 27, in the opener of the Western best-of-five final series.

Leafs, with most of their line-up coming from former British Columbia Canadian champion squads, took a twelve-point lead in the first contest, Monday, winning 56-44.

Lions, as in the first game, put up a stiff battle for two-thirds of the route, playing a tight zone defence that held the British Columbia titleholders within striking distance. At half time, however, Leafs led 19-17 and the experienced veterans had little trouble increasing their victory margin over the youthful Albertans.

The close checking of both clubs on the small floor led to a great deal of personal contact and a total of thirty-four fouls were called, twenty on Vancouver and fourteen on Magrath. Joe Ross and Dick Wright, of Vancouver, and Cal Merkley, Magrath, went to the showers in the second half for drawing their full quota of personals.

Joe Ross, play-making centre for the visitors, again led the sharp-shooting brigade with a total of nine points. Just one point back came Dick Wright and Art Willoughby, with Al Beaton third high with seven.

HEADS LOSERS

George Hamilton again topped the Magrath marksmen, sniping eight points. Bert Toomer and Jim Blumel were next in line with six apiece.

Vancouver again took an early lead, with Magrath rallying to tie the count at five-all with seven minutes played. The score see-sawed for several minutes, with Lions twice tying the count, but unable to pull into a lead. Ross, Wright and Willoughby cut loose in the closing minutes of the period to give Leafs their halftime lead.

Trailing 24-13 eight minutes after the interval, Magrath came back into the picture briefly when Blumel potted a pair of goals and Hamilton followed up with another to make the count read 24-19.

Leafs speeded up the pace and pulled steadily away with an attack that was featured by three baskets in succession by Wright. His outburst left the score reading 35-25 for Vancouver, with less than five minutes to play.

Last part of the game was marred by a succession of fouls on both clubs, with Leafs capitalizing on four foul shots and a field goal to stretch their lead to fifteen points before the end of the game.

The Coast champions, who played the first game with only six men, were strengthened for tonight's game with the addition of Jim Bardsley and Art Willoughby, who flew here this morning for the game.

Because of the postponement until April 27 of the Western final, Maple Leafs will fly back to Vancouver on Thursday morning. They plan on flying again to fill their Winnipeg engagement.

LINE-UPS

Vancouver—Watson, Beaton (7), Bardsley (5), Wright (8), Ross (9), Willoughby (8), Henderson (2), Parsons (2). Total 41.

Magrath—Karren (3), Hamilton (8), Bourne (3), Toomer (6), Blumel (6), Bennett, Merkley (1), Rich. Total 27.

Officials—Al Foubister and Rulon Leavitt.

Paul Moore Sets World's Record At Track Event

PALO ALTO, Cal., April 17 (AP).—Paul Moore bettered the world record for three-quarters of a mile here today during the Stanford University-San Jose State College track and field meet.

He was clocked in 2:58.7. The official world's record is 3:06, set in 1932 by Jules Ladoumegue, of France.

The slender Stanford student ran a beautifully-timed race to exceed one of the older records in the book. It bettered the previously faster, but unrecognized, time of 2:59.5, made by England's little Sydney Wooderson in London last June.

Western Senior Men's Basketball Series Switched

WINNIPEG, April 17 (CP).—A change in the Western senior men's basketball play-off dates has been necessitated by the fact that Kenora Thistles and Oshawa Generals probably will be using the Amphitheatre Rink on the dates originally scheduled for the Western play-off.

The following arrangement has been confirmed by the C.A.B.A.: St. Andrew's will meet Vancouver Maple Leafs at the Amphitheatre Rink in a best-of-five series opening April 27. Second and third games will be played April 29 and 30. Fourth and fifth games, if necessary, will be played May 1 and 2.

LAWN BOWLING

The Canadian Pacific Lawn Bowling Club will hold its official opening on Saturday, April 27, at 2:30 o'clock. The greens will be open for play this coming Saturday for the members to limber up. A big turnout is expected at the inaugural meeting a week from Saturday.

BROMWICH SCORES WIN

HOBART, Tasmania, April 17 (CP-Reuter's).—Jack Bromwich today won the Australian hard courts tennis singles championship by defeating Jack Crawford in four sets, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. Harry Hopman won the women's singles title by downing Miss Thelma Coyne, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Six Rangers Under Knife In the East

NEW YORK, April 17 (CP).—If nothing else, New York Rangers should have a healthier team for the next National Hockey League season than the one which captured the Stanley Cup last week.

Six Rangers underwent operations yesterday, and are resting as comfortably as could be expected. A seventh will go under the surgeon's knife today.

Wilbur (Dutch) Hiller had his appendix removed, while Mac and Neil Colville underwent tonsilectomies, and Dave Kerr, Murray Patrick and Alex Shibicky had chips taken out of their elbows.

Kilby Macdonald will have his tonsils out this morning and will remain in hospital for observation of a stomach ailment.

ENGLISH BOXING CHAMPION SIGNS

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 17 (AP).—Promoter Mike Jacobs announced here today he had arranged a match between Eric Boone, lightweight boxing champion of the British Isles, and Henry Armstrong, negro welterweight champion, for New York in June. Armstrong's world title will be at stake in the match.

Dick Irwin Signs To Boss Montreal Club Next Season

Master Mind of the Toronto Maple Leafs for the Past Ten Years to Look After Canadiens in Hockey League During 1940-41 Campaign—To Reorganize Entire Club

MONTREAL, April 17 (CP). — Memories of a Stanley Cup final as coach of Toronto Maple Leafs still lingered tonight in Dick Irvin's mind, as he spoke confidently of his "new job" as manager-coach of Montreal's National Hockey League Canadiens.

"I wouldn't have taken this new job with Canadiens if I hadn't been confident that the team will be a success next season," said Irvin, shortly after coming to terms to guide the Habitants for the next two seasons. "Of one thing I am certain, and that is that we'll be in the play-offs next season."

Irvin added that it was still too early to make any other predictions about how Canadiens, who finished a poor last in the 1939-40 season, would fare in the next National Hockey League campaign.

"I don't know what players they have on their negotiation lists, or anything like that," he added.

It is Irvin's belief that the best mixture for next season's edition of Canadiens would be as follows: Take the best of last season's squad; try to obtain three or four expperienced players from other N.H.L. clubs; and add three or four amateur stars.

OWN IDEAS

The new Montreal leader has his own ideas on the players he would attempt to purchase from other National Hockey League teams but said that he would have to talk the matter over with Canadien's officials before "making any announcement."

"I've already talked over the matter of amateur players with Paul here," said Irwin, waving a hand to Scout Paul Haynes. "In fact I was quite surprised at the fine number of amateurs that he has lined up and I'm certain we can pick out some good pro material."

Irvin comes to Canadiens with a brilliant record as a team handler. In nine seasons at Toronto the Leafs made the Stanley cup play-offs seven times, winning the cup once and the National Hockey League championship three times. Prior to his stretch with the Leafs he served as coach for two seasons with Chicago Black Hawks.

"It's much too soon for me to say just what members of last year's Canadiens will be back," Irvin said.

He does intend, if possible, to continue with Canadiens an experiment that worked well with the Leafs in the past season—that of carrying twenty or twenty-one players. Irvin said that "any team which has to play a lot of week-end double-headers needs fresh men, and the best system is to have them on hand."

Irvin, who intends to leave shortly for his home in Regina, where he will stay until about two weeks before Fall training opens, would hazard no guess as to whether Hector (Toe) Blake, Canadien's star wingman, would be used in a trade. In the past two season's several clubs have been interested in Blake, with Leafs recently renewing their offers.

TORONTO, April 17 (CP).—Manager Conny Smythe, of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, said tonight that Charley Conacher and Murray Armstrong are among "possible" reinforcements for Montreal Canadiens next season. Both players are Toronto property, although they performed during the season just closed with New York Americans.

ANNUAL TOURNEY SET AT UPLANDS

Play in the annual men's championship at the Uplands Golf Club will start on Sunday with the card and pencil test carded over the eighteen-hole distance. Entries must be handed in to the secretary not later than 4 o'clock on Friday of this week. Post entries will be accepted in pairs.

With such noted golfers as Bob Morrison, Ken Lawson, Vic Painter and Jack Bacon, who is playing to form these days, some good scores should be posted in the medal round.

OLD COUNTRY BOXING

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH OF ENGLAND, April 17 (CP).—Boxing men of the First Division, Canadian Active Service Force, invaded a naval base tonight and came within one salvo of holding even a team of Royal Naval Marines.

After an evening of heavy firing, the naval marine scrappers held seven victories to six for the Canadian Army sharpshooters, who all hail from Eastern Canada.

Firing with the same deadly accuracy they've known against Hitler's navy off Norway, the sea fighters scored three knockouts.

CENSUS TAKERS TO START WORK

Tabulation of Residents in Canada to Be Taken Next Year

OTTAWA, April 17 (CP).—War or peace, the decennial census of Canada will be taken on schedule in 1941. Officials of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are busy preparing for the counting of heads and compilation of hundreds of volumes of figures which give a complete picture of the growth of Canada in wealth and population.

On June 2, 1941, some 16,000 enumerators will start ringing doorbells from coast to coast, asking questions and filling in the answers on big sheets of paper.

They will count, not only the men, women and children in Canada, but the horses, cows, pigs, sheep and poultry. They will note racial origin, religion, occupation, age, wages, employment or lack of employment, livestock and acreage in crop on farms.

The 16,000 enumerators will work under approximately 250 commissioners, each in charge of a census district, which is about the same thing as an electoral district for the Federal Parliament.

TO TOTAL RESULTS

Back in Ottawa some 1,100 extra employees will be assembled to aid the permanent staff of the Census Branch, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in assembling and totaling results of the census.

Population of Canada at the last census in 1931 was 10,376,000. Since then it has been increasing at the rate of about 100,000 a year, according to estimates based on births and deaths, immigration and emigration. So the next census probably will show a population of between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000.

Canada's governmental machinery hinges on the census at several vital points. The British North America Act provides that the census must be taken every ten years, that after each census there shall be a redistribution of the representation of the country in Parliament, based on the census.

CHANGE OF RIDINGS

This means that areas which increase in population obtain more members of the House of Commons, sometimes at the expense of areas which remain stationary or decrease. Thus some constituencies will be merged or enlarged after 1941, while others will become smaller as new ones are created.

The subsidies payable to Provincial Governments by the Federal Government also are based, in part on the census. The larger the population of a province the larger the subsidy it gets.

The British North America Act also requires a census every five years in the Prairie Provinces for the purpose of computing the subsidies payable to them. In 1936 the suggestion was advanced that this special western census be dropped as an economy measure but the provinces concerned protested and the Dominion had no choice but to proceed with it.

REINFORCING THEIR DEFENCE

herself with the Near East defence system formed by the Allies and Turkey. They said further that Rumanian staff officers have established contact at Ankara with Turkish strategists.

TRANSFERRING TROOPS

Additional Rumanian regiments left for Bessarabia today and informed quarters understood that Russia was pushing the transfer of veteran troops from the former Finnish front to the Bessarabian frontier.

In an effort, however, to lessen the risk of frontier incidents, Rumania was reported reliably to have reached a tentative agreement with Russia under which the troops of each country will remain ten kilometres (six and a quarter miles) behind the border.

Rumania has put her navy in full control of Black Sea and Danube ports, replying to a Nazi threat to send German gunboats down the river to protect German traffic.

Air raid drills have been organized in the major Yugoslav towns along the coast of the Adriatic facing Italy and near the German border.

BAN COMMUNICATION

BELGRADE, April 17 (AP).—Yugoslavia banned international telephone communications from small Yugoslav towns on the German border tonight and conducted widespread police raids on the homes of Germans suspected of being secret Nazi agents in order to forestall any "fifth column" activity such as aided the invasion of Norway.

The executive council of the International Danube Commission—composed of representatives of Rumania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Slovakia, Germany, Great Britain, France and Italy—took action regarded as a setback for German demands.

The council recommended that Rumania, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Hungary police their own territorial waters, and that the iron gate on the Danube frontier of Rumania and Yugoslavia be closed to cement, ore and other heavy shipments.

Germany wants to police the Danube with her own gunboats in order to prevent "British sabotage."

SPECIAL PERMITS

The commission, however, recommended that special permits be issued, the iron gate passage be strictly supervised and that the four countries exchange mutual information for a further safeguarding of the waterway.

An order was issued that all foreigners must leave Belgrade in ten days unless the Government is satisfied that their presence is desirable.

There are 500,000 Germans in Yugoslavia, and Yugoslavs frequently have voiced the fear they might serve as the nucleus for internal trouble in event of difficulties with the Reich.

ASKS STAND OF ITALIANS

mier Mussolini's administration or whether Italy had something else on its mind and was using the controlled press of the nation as a cloak.

RESTRAINING INFLUENCE

It is believed here that realization of two facts by Mussolini and the Italian people may act as a restraining influence, the extent of the British naval victory over German seapower and, secondly, the inability of the German air force to combat Britain's sea supremacy. It is suggested that when these facts are realized in Italy, the tone of the Italian press may be changed.

There are many diplomatic observers here who believe that Mussolini has been flirting with the idea of entering the war on the German side. Il Duce has never forgotten Britain's part in the imposition of sanctions against Italy over the Abyssinian conquest and in addition he apparently believes the overthrow of Naziism in Germany might endanger the Fascist setup in Italy.

TERRITORIAL RAID

Another theory held here is that Mussolini has something else up his sleeve, possibly a quick raid on Corfu or one of Yugoslavia's northern Adriatic ports which, with Albania, would give him complete control of the Adriatic. Those who hold this theory suggest Mussolini is working on the supposition he could get away with another territorial raid without a major war.

Whatever is on Mussolini's mind, the blunt, direct speech of Britain's blockade director, who usually speaks with the soft tones of a banker, probably will serve to crystalize the whole situation, observers here believe. It is quite evident, they say, that he expects Italy to make some sort of official explanation of its general position.

PRO-GERMAN SENTIMENT

ROME April 17 (AP).—Pro-German sentiment swept the Italian press today, editorial and news columns alike belittling the Allied military power and playing up Nazi claims of successes in Norway.

Against this background, the official Gazette tonight published a decree formally authorizing the calling up of Italians of four classes, who previously were rejected or only partially trained. This action was foreshadowed more than a month ago. The number of men involved was not indicated.

Those affected are in the classes of 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914.

Aside from the press campaign there was little to indicate any deterioration of Anglo-Italian relations during the last twenty-four hours.

Investigation failed to confirm widespread rumors of demonstrations against Britain and France in various Italian cities.

British and French spokesmen here attributed the reports to German propaganda agents.

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—British and Norwegian volunteers for service in Norway so crowded the Norwegian consulate here that an additional recruiting bureau was opened today in the Norwegian Tourist Bureau, near Canada House.

GERMAN FLYERS BOMBED INDIANS

Over Hundred Killed for Refusing Undertaking Against Duty To Their King

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Sir Firozkhan Noon, Indian High Commissioner in London, today charged that German flyers deliberately bombed a ship and killed more than 100 persons because 143 Indian seamen aboard the ship refused to give an undertaking not to serve on British ships.

"The day before the sailing of the British steamship Domala, which was bombed on March 2 by Nazi murder planes with a loss of more than 100 lives, 143 Indian seamen who were being repatriated from Germany were asked to give an undertaking not to serve on British ships," Sir Firozkhan said. "Their united reply was that if their King wanted them to serve it would be impossible to refuse.

"'Then we do not guarantee your safe arrival in your country,' retorted the Nazis," the High Commissioner continued. "A few hours later a plane swooped low in the moonlight and blasted the ship with bombs.

"The Germans knew very well what was going to happen."

Sir Firozkhan related this story at the annual meeting of the board of governors of the Seamen's Hospital Society.

MINK BREEDERS MEET TOMORROW

Important Business Will Be Discussed by Members of Island Organization

A meeting of the Vancouver Island Mink Breeders' Association will be held tomorrow evening, at 635 Fort Street, at 8 o'clock, when a full slate of business will be dealt with.

A representative from a local concern handling considerable tonnage of fish, is expected to attend and present a plan whereby local ranchers may be supplied with ground fish food for fur animals.

G. H. Pethick, newly elected a director of the B.C. Mink Breeders' Association, will report on the annual meeting of the parent body, held recently in New Westminster.

In a province-wide campaign to organize the fur farmers, the British Columbia association, with which the Island organization is affiliated, will endeavor to seek some benefit from the special royalty tax collected by the Province. All mink breeders of the Island, whether able to attend meetings or not, are asked to send their membership, so that the experience of as great a number of these men as possible may be secured. One of the aims of the organization is to introduce, for open discussion, issues pertinent to the industry.

PRESS BUREAU CHIEF FORESEES INFLUX OF TOURISTS TO CANADA

Harry J. Smith, chief of the Canadian Pacific Railway Press Bureau at Montreal, said at the Empress Hotel yesterday that largely through widespread advertising the whispering campaign in the United States, to the effect that tourists would find difficulty in entering and leaving Canada owing to war restrictions, had been overcome.

In common with most travel experts, Mr. Smith believes that this will be a good tourist year, and the Canadian railways have done their share in advertising the tourist attractions of the Dominion to the people of the United States, he said.

With the exchange in their favor and the novelty of seeing this country under wartime conditions without being annoyed by any restrictions, there should be a considerable influx of Americans to Canada this Summer, Mr. Smith thought.

OPEN FUND FOR LLOYD GEORGE

Tribute to Former Premier of Great Britain to Cover All Empire

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—Fifty years ago today a young Welshman, who was destined to rise to the most important political post in Britain, took his first seat in the House of Commons.

He was David Lloyd George. He first entered Commons as Member for Carnarvon on April 17, 1890. He has been a member continuously for half a century, sitting throughout for that division.

The occasion will not pass without a special tribute to the shrewd little seventy-seven-year-old Welshman, who was Prime Minister during the latter half of the first Great War.

A "Shilling Recognition Fund" has been organized, open to admirers of Lloyd George in Britain, the Dominions and all over the British Commonwealth. It is sponsored by the North Wales Liberal Federation and the South Wales Liberal Federation. The form which this tribute will take has yet to be decided.

In a recent interview, the veteran commoner recalled some of the highlights of his long, unbroken parliamentary career. He said Gladstone was the outstanding figure known in Parliament.

He considered Lord Snowden the best of the Labor leaders of the House in his time.

RECEIVES GIFT

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—David Lloyd George today received a rare piece of antique porcelain as the gift of the Japanese Government in tribute to his fifty years' service in the British House of Commons. The gift was presented by Tatsuo Kawai, Japanese Ambassador-at-Large.

CONNIE SMYTHE MAY JOIN ARMY

TORONTO, April 17 (CP).—Conny Smythe, manager of Toronto's National Hockey League Club, confirmed reports today that he is seeking a major's commission in the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Smythe, whose Leafs were defeated in Stanley Cup finals by New York Rangers Saturday night, said he is trying "from several angles" to enter the branch of the army in which he served during the first Great War.

He transferred to the Royal Flying Corps during the war and was brought down behind the German lines, finishing his service in a German prison. He won the Military Cross.

"I have tried a couple of times to sell my stable of race horses, and I have a purchaser for them when the army calls me," he said.

LONDON, April 17 (CP).—A plea of "difficult times" did not help officials of Tottenham Hotspur Football Club when the famous London club was hailed to court and £844 ($3,655) demanded for municipal taxes. The magistrate ordered payment within four weeks.

War Stocks Find Higher Positions On Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP).—Stocks allied to war overrode bearish opposition today to reach advanced positions at the end of a gyrating market session.

In consequence came a rush of buying orders which sent leaders as much as two points up in the first hour. Many traders quickly cashed their gains. Prices of steels and motors dropped a point or more in some instances.

The net result was that The Associated Press average of sixty selected stocks was unchanged at 50.1. A total of 902,010 shares changed hands, compared with 1,505,860 yesterday.

Coppers were active on expectations of increased European demand and a report of improved earnings by Anaconda Copper Mining Co.

Some paper stocks reached new highs for the year as a result of the war in Scandinavia and the likelihood of reduced Norwegian pulp supplies.

Among the best performers on the upside were Bethlehem, Youngstown, Yellow Truck, Douglas, Glenn Martin, Lockheed, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, American Can, Phelps Dodge, Anaconda, Kennecott, Southern Railway, New York Shipbuilding, Patino Mines, Union Bag & Paper and International Paper. The last three attained year's peaks.

Domestic corporate bonds cut loose from war-depressed foreign obligations in today's market and made steady though moderate progress.

Foreign dollar loans, meanwhile, added fresh losses of 1 to 5 or more points to the tremendous declines already suffered since Europe's war got into the spreading stage a week ago.

A few examples today: Italian Credit Consortium 7's, off 5 at 55; Norway 6's, off 5 at 52; Norway 4½'s off 4½ at 36; Oriental Development 5½'s, off 4⅜ at 51¼; Tokio Electric 6's, off 1⅜ at 57¼; Brisbane 6's, off 2⅜ at 64½; Canada 4's, off 1 at 18.

United States Government loans barely appeared on the tape, but declines up to 11-32 of a point predominated.

WHEAT FUTURES DROP FRACTIONS

WINNIPEG, April 17 (CP).—Winnipeg wheat market kept in step with easier values in United States exchanges today and futures prices dropped 1-4 to 1-8 cent.

Closing quotations were: May 90 1-8, July 91 5-8, October 93 1-4 cents.

Beneficial moisture throughout most of the Winter wheat belt forced liquidation in southern pits. Rainfall varied from light in some sections to more than three inches in the Wichita, Kansas, district.

Chicago closed unchanged to 1-2 lower.

Declines in North American markets were halted by advices from Europe of poor crop conditions. Russian reports said only 5 per cent of acreage expected to be planted by April 10 had completed seeding.

Cash grain trade was marked by sale of a large quantity of No. 3 Northern wheat for export shipment from lakehead ports at opening of navigation.

Flax gained about a cent in coarse grains futures pit on investment interest, while oats remained steady on domestic support. Barley and rye declined fractions due to neglect.

Salt Spring Island Estate Is Sold to Retired Englishman

"Sanctuary," the 800-acre Baldwin estate at Long Harbor on Salt Spring Island, which belonged to the late Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin, wealthy California woman, after whom the Santa Anita race track was named, has been sold to a retired Englishman who came here last year, it was announced yesterday by Harold E. Pratt, who negotiated the deal on behalf of Ker & Stephenson.

The Baldwin property has a fine, large, fully furnished residence; hired help house, barns, chicken houses, creamery and several excellent beaches, and was the favorite Summer home of Mrs. Baldwin, who died last year. Known originally as the Abbot property, it was sold to Mrs. Baldwin about six years ago also by Ker & Stephenson.

Mr. Pratt said that the new purchaser will probably use "Sanctuary" as a Summer home, although it is possible that some part of the land may be put under development.

MOSTLY LOSS IN MONTREAL MART

MONTREAL, April 17 (CP).—Selective buying in papers gave the newsprint group a firmer trend on the stock market today, while the majority of the list boarded narrow losses.

Price Brothers, St. Lawrence Corporation preferred, Bathurst and Dryden tacked on fractions ranging from 1-4 to 3-4.

Minus small amounts were C.P.R. and Canadian Car in the rails.

B.C. Power "A" eased a point and Brazilian, Montreal Power and Shawinigan declined minor fractions. International Pete backtracked 1-4.

Smelters showed a 1-4 loss, while Nickel gained a minimum fraction. Others to show slight additions included Canadian Celanese, National Breweries, Distillers-Seagrams and Ottawa Car and Aircraft.

"Oh, John—you DID remember!"

Good old John, always reliable... he didn't forget Mary's birthday, even though he was many miles away. He couldn't be with her for the occasion, but he knew the next best thing to do. He called her by long-distance telephone.

"This is a real thrill, John," said Mary. "It makes me wish I could have a birthday every day."

CHAPTER XLV

That Jim's Mexican vaquero shadow and his companion had been closer until the past few moments seemed to Silcott a reasonable guess. The man with the Mexican was Pete Yeager.

"You're looking some peaked, Homer," Silcott said. "You want to remember you're an old man and cut out cavorting at so many dances."

"I don't go to dances," protested Caldwell feigning indignation. "And I'm not so doggoned old if I wanted to go." He added, sharply, "You're the one that looks peaked. I done heard how you was shot up couple of weeks ago."

"By amateurs," Jim explained, and pretended to catch sight of the fat little cowpuncher for the first time. "Why hello, Pete! I was just talking about you. Mention an angel and you hear the rustle of his wings. How are cases?"

The baldheaded man retorted promptly. "I'd advise you to drop that notion about me being an amateur."

"Amateurs are all right in their place, Pete," Jim told him soothingly. "Maybe you'll do better after a while. They say practice makes perfect."

Yeager snorted. "Hmp! One of these smart galoots who knows it all."

"Sometimes I think you don't like me, Pete. Well, I got to be moving. Supper at Lieutenant Windom's house. Can't keep my friends waiting." Silcott turned to the Mexican vaquero. "Let's be going, young fellow, if you're trailing me. See you later, Pete. Don't take any wooden nutmegs."

He sauntered down the street, leaving Yeager fuming behind him.

Before he had gone fifty yards a voice hailed him. "You doggoned old buzzard head!"

Two riders were coming up the street. One was Rufe Jelks, the other Pesky Kennedy. Rufe swung from the saddle.

"What are you doing here?" Silcott asked in astonishment.

"Why, can't a couple of cowboys come to see the elephant?" the owner of the Longhorn corral asked hilariously.

"They can but they didn't," Jim said. "Spill it, Rufe."

Jelks grinned. "We heard that Hat T had moved headquarters to Santa Fe, so Pesky and I drifted along to see if we couldn't get a job."

"You might, at that, before we are through," Jim admitted. "Rest your saddles, boys, and come into the Green Light with me for a powwow."

They walked into the saloon and took a small table. Each ordered what he wanted. Their heads close together, they talked almost in murmurs. Jim told them the most recent developments.

"Hmp!" grunted Jelks. "Thought something was doing when the Hat T hands collected Jess Lamprey and lit out with him. Knowing you were here, we figured Santa Fe would be the centre of the storm. So we hightailed it to the city."

Silcott rose. "I'm due at Lieutenant Windom's for supper. Miss Eliot is staying there. Later in the evening I'll meet you at the hotel. Adios, boys."

Kennedy spoke for the first and last time during the conference. "Don't let them knock yore block off, Red," he said.

"Not if I can help it. Be back about ten."

* * *

Just as Stratton closed his desk and rose to go home two men walked into the office. His heart lost a beat, for both his visitors were masked and one of them had a .44 in his hand.

The lawyer's right hand fluttered down toward a drawer still open but stopped abruptly on the way. The man behind the revolver had said curtly, "don't, D. L."

He was a big heavy man with long arms and thick rounded shoulders. His resemblance to an ape was enhanced by the growth of hair that matted his throat and the backs of his hands.

"What does this m-mean?" the lawyer stammered.

The big man padded across the floor and pushed home the bolt of the back door. His companion turned the big key in the front door and pulled down the window blind.

"So we can be comfortable and not be interrupted," he explained.

Frightened though he was, Stratton noticed that his height was below the average and that he was of plump build. Where the mask did not hide his face it was high in color.

"If it's money you want—"

The ape man cut off the attorney's protest. "Can the chatter, D. L., and do as you're told. You know what we want. Cough up that letter."

As the man shuffled forward, the revolver in his hand looked as large as a small cannon to Stratton. From the hairy wrist a quirt hung. The muscles of the lawyer's stomach collapsed. He remebered what Silcott had told him of the foreman's Apache tendencies. But he made an attempt to push back the panic sweeping over him.

"W-what letter?" he asked.

"Don't play horse with me?" the hairy ape said. He stood with his feet well apart, his head thrust forward. "If I once start I'll rip the white flesh from yore bones with this quirt."

Stratton gave up. "I haven't the Gandara letters if that's what you mean," he answered.

"Open that safe."

The attorney opened it. The fat man went through the papers inside, scattering them on the floor after he had examined each. He rifled the desk.

"If it's here and you're lying to us, I'll skin you alive," the big man promised viciously.

"I haven't got the letter."

"We know better. Red Silcott left it here."

"He took it away again. This afternoon."

A hairy hand reached out and caught Stratton by the throat. Sinewy fingers closed on the flesh. "So you're gonna get funny with me, eh?"

The face of the lawyer grew black and his eyes glassy.

RESIGNATION OF MAYOR REJECTED

Citizens and Council of Alberta Town Refuse to Let Danish-Born Official Retire

EDSON, Alta., April 17 (CP).—More than a dozen prominent Edson citizens, backed by the town council, went to Mayor William Wilson's home last night and brought the Danish-born Great War veteran back to the chief magistrate's chair, a post Wilson attempted to vacate on Saturday because his native land "now practically is enemy territory."

The councillors not only rejected Wilson's resignation but praised the work and character of the fifty-one-year-old mayor. Then they gave assent when citizens, sitting in the council chamber, announced they were going to Mayor Wilson's home and "bring him back here where he belongs."

DROPS RESIGNATION

When the group reached Wilson's home they found the grey-haired oil company agent sitting with his Danish-born wife. Wilson agreed to go with them and forget about his effort to resign.

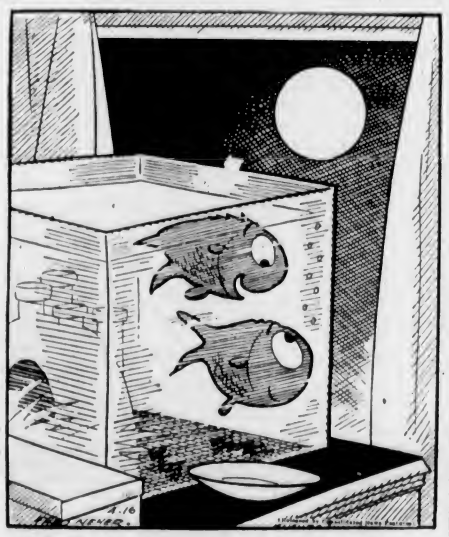

"I am very happy about it, of course, and so is my wife," he said later.

Wilson, whose Danish name was Vilsen, came to Canada in 1910, was an Edson councillor for about ten years and mayor since 1938.

Y.M.C.A. TOTAL IS INCREASING

Subscriptions Pledged to War Services Campaign Amount to $4,142

Subscriptions pledged in the Y.M.C.A. war services campaign to secure $20,000 in Victoria amounted to $1,255 at last evening's second report meeting held in Terry's dining-room, bringing the total so far to $4,142. Of this sum, $2,023 has been received in cash.

W. T. Straith, M.P.P., chairman, announced that so far only 413 subscriptions had been reported out of a total of 5,200 cards available for canvassing.

Honors for the leading team and leading team captain went to the women canvassers last evening. The Blue Team, in charge of Mrs. S. J. Willis, reported pledges totaling $422.50, with $350.50 in cash. Mrs. E. G. Rowebottom was high captain, turning in pledges amounting to $127, and $101 in cash.

The Yellow Team, Major E. G. Rowebottom, reported a total of $287.50. Major W. P. D. Pemberton, of the Red Team, reported $239.50 in pledges, and the White Team of Major A. Gibbs reported $129.25.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

G. H. Stevens reported for the special names committee in the absence of F. E. Winslow. This group had pledges amounting to $475, with $385 in cash. H. Henderson gave the report of the sub-committee, showing pledges amounting to $184, with $138.50 in cash.

Mr. Straith spoke of an organizing trip to Courtenay, where he said they had received 10 per cent of their $1,000 objective, notwithstanding the fact that their drive does not open until next Monday.

A short talk on the Y.M.C.A.'s services to the troops was given by E. E. Gregg, and Douglas Scott later showed motion pictures dealing with the campaign.

Frank Paulding announced that the next report meeting would be held on Friday evening, at 6 o'clock, in Spencer's dining-room.

TIC DOLOREUX, TRIFACIAL NEURALGIA, MAY BE DUE TO DISEASES OF THE TEETH

One of the drug companies has distributed to the medical and dental profession an accurate and complete illustration of the distribution of the "fifth" nerve. The illustration shows how branches, large and small, go to every part of the face, jaws, cheeks, throat, and to each individual tooth. I had it framed and it hangs on the wall of my office as I can so easily point out how one tiny nerve ending in a tooth can start pain in the large group of nerve fibres under the ear and cause that agonizing pain called tic doloreux, or trifacial neuralgia.

I have spoken before of the number of cases of tic doloreux caused by the pressure of a large or misplaced wisdom tooth. Some severe operations have been performed to cut the fibres of this group of nerve fibres when the removal of the impacted wisdom tooth would have given relief.

That other conditions of the teeth aside from impacted wisdom teeth may be causing this severe trifacial neuralgia is stated by Dr. M. Melchior, in The Journal of Psychiatry and Neurology, Copenhagen. The tooth disorders mentioned are diseases of the pulp or soft inside part of the tooth—nerve and blood-vessels—abscesses under fillings, and inflammations of the socket of the jaw in which the tooth rests.

Dr. Melchior is very emphatic in pointing out the danger following extraction of the teeth. Pieces of the root or splinters of bone from the bony socket often remain which may heal into the jaw without causing any symptoms but which, after many years, may be the concealed or hidden cause of severe neuralgias.

Extraction of teeth may develop little nerve tumors, thin ridges of bone, and fractures of the sides of the bony sockets in the jaw bone. Some of these pieces of bone stick out as bony edges and cut into the lining membrane of the mouth. These sharp edges are, of course, struck by food or other substances in the mouth causing continuous injuries or soreness with resulting infections. The treatment for such cases is the removal of these jagged pieces of bone.

The thought then in cases of severe neuralgia of the face is not the use of a quieting drug, but an immediate visit to your dentist to first make sure that no tooth or jaw condition is the cause.

Settlement Offer of Unions Is Turned Down by Companies

Shipowners Make Other Proposals and Refuse to Discuss Certain Demands—Union Head Disappointed Over Government's Attitude

TORONTO, April 17 (CP). — Four major shipping companies, after receiving a new offer from the Canadian Seamen's Union for settlement of the Great Lakes navigation strike, turned down the union's plan today and sent back a new proposal.

The companies offered $5 a month increase in seamen's wages but refused to discuss the union demand for extra men on each ship and a closed shop.

Owners of the companies making the new offer—the Upper Lakes & St. Lawrence Transportation Company, Canada Steamship Lines, Colonial Steamship Company and Norman M. Paterson & Company—said it was final.

Earlier J. A. "Pat" Sullivan, union president, said the strike would be called off if the companies granted $10 a month increase and put one additional man on each ship.

Other matters in dispute would be referred to arbitration under the union proposal, which was communicated to the companies by the union.

REFUSED REQUEST

Mr. Sullivan said in a statement that the Dominion Government refused to send the offer to the companies "or to request them to meet the men in conference for the purpose of negotiation."

The statement was issued following a conference between Mr. Sullivan, Arthur Roebuck, union counsel, and J. S. Chapman, union secretary-treasurer, who returned here from Ottawa, where they conferred with Federal Labor Department officials concerning the strike, called last Sunday, at midnight, and which has tied up the majority of lake boats.

"I am definitely disappointed at the lack of co-operation shown by the Government and the employers in our effort to bring about a settlement of the present dispute on the Great Lakes," Mr. Sullivan said.

"Our representatives went to Ottawa for the express purpose of asking the Government to bring about a meeting between ourselves and the employers and this the Government definitely refused to do."

The union president stated that the Labor Department "complained that the refusal of the men to man the boats without a prior agreement with the employers was interfering with the essential industries of the country and was highly destructive in view of war conditions."

DEFINITE OFFER

The union representatives at the Ottawa meeting made a definite offer to the Government, Mr. Sullivan said, to end the strike if the companies granted $10 a month increase in wages and put an additional seaman on each ship.

All other union demands, such as a closed shop, three men on a ship and a $15 a month increase would be submitted to arbitration under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act.

This was refused, however, by the Government, the union chief said.

"If in consequence of these obstructive tactics on the part of the companies, supported by the Government, lake shipping is tied up for an indefinite period, or the industrial difficulties extend to other branches of the industry, the responsibility rests not upon our shoulders, but rather is to be laid at the door of those who persistently refuse to even negotiate."

The union claims 6,500 seamen are on strike, tieing up navigation on the lakes almost completely. It announced the signing of agreements yesterday with two small companies, the Tees Company, of Hamilton, and the Coal Carriers' Corporation, of Toronto, involving a $10 monthly wage increase among other things.

MAKE READY FOR PILOT TRAINING

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP). — Training of war pilots in Vancouver under the Empire air training plan will begin in July or August of this year, it was announced here last night at the annual meeting of the Aero Club of British Columbia—the organization which will aid in the preliminary training of the flyers here.

W. G. Mackenzie, past president, reported on details of the plan and said that the early Summer months will be spent in training instructors.

Under the agreement, the Government will supply the buildings and equipment while the Aero Club will supply personnel and management.

Les Martin was elected president of the club by acclamation.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that, without further notice, a white, quick-flashing acetylene gas light will be established on a pile structure driven close to the outer end of the Northside Jetty at the entrance to the Fraser River, Strait of Georgia, B.C. This light replaces the Northside Jetty Beacon No. 1 (2309.8) recently carried away and marks the end of the Northside Jetty.

Agent, Department of Transport.

Navigating Officer Of Spearfish

LIEUT. E. AIKMAN

SON of Captain Edmund Aikman, R.N.R., general superintendent of Canadian Pacific Steamships at Vancouver, is navigating officer of H.M.S. Spearfish, which torpedoed the German pocket battleship Admiral Sheer recently in the North Sea. Like his father, a naval reservist, Lieut. Aikman was in the Canadian Pacific's Atlantic service as an officer when war broke out, when he joined the dangerous submarine arm of the Royal Navy.

Flying Fortress in a Blind Flight Test

One of the United States Army's flying fortresses is shown at Mitchel Field, Long Island, ready to take off on a 300-mile blind flight to Langley Field, Virginia, first of its kind attempted by the United States Army. Radio beams from two trucks guided the plane in landing. Insert, are Pilot McDaniel (inside blind flying hood) and Co-Pilot Matheny (right). The plane was flown on instruments only.

CHEAP RAIL FARES SOON

E. & N. Railway Will Inaugurate Bargain Excursions Early in May

First bargain excursion of the present season to points on Vancouver Island served by the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway is scheduled for the first week in May, according to an announcement, yesterday, by James Macfarlane, general agent of the Canadian Pacific in Victoria.

These popular low-price outings in past seasons attracted a lot of patronage, and no doubt will meet with equal favor during 1940. The fares apply to all points between Victoria, Courtenay and Port Alberni, with up-Island residents having a like privilege between the northern and western ends of the system and Victoria.

Going dates have been set for Friday and Saturday, May 3 and 4, with the return limit good until Tuesday, May 7.

REGULAR OVERHAUL

Yarrows Limited drydocked the B. C. Coast Service Ss. Princess Louise yesterday for underwater cleaning and painting. The Princess Louise will replace the Ss. Princess Norah on the Alaska run, April 23.

Ss. Princess Elaine, released on Monday, following overhaul by Victoria Machinery Depot, left yesterday for Nanaimo, and will take the early morning run from there for Vancouver today. The Elaine relieves the Ss. Princess Victoria, and she will return here to prepare for the coming excursion season.

TONNAGE DECLINE

Due in part to waterfront troubles, cargo handled across San Francisco docks has shown a steady decline in the past decade. Compared with 1930, toll-paying cargo tonnage at the Port of San Francisco is currently 40 per cent below a decade ago. There is less tonnage at present than at the lowest ebb of the depression, it is said.

Although no direct conclusions for the decline are offered, it is pointed out by marine authorities of the California port that there were three jagged strikes of eighty-four, ninety-eight and fifty-three days, respectively, in 1934, 1936-37 and 1939.

Comparing January, 1940, with January, 1939, coastwise sailings dropped to fifty-five from ninety; Hawaiian to nine from nineteen; intercoastal to sixty-eight from eighty-six; European to twenty-seven from forty-five. Central and South America sailings increased to eleven from nine, while Australia and trans-Pacific remained unchanged at forty.

VAST STOREHOUSE

South China seas hold a vast storehouse of treasure in wrecked ships, according to a Japanese salvage expert, who recently returned to Tokio. He expects to return there shortly with a number of assistants to refloat and reclaim sunken ships for Japan. The expert was sent to South China coast by the president of the Tokio Salvage Works to ascertain whether a 6,000-ton Japanese merchant vessel, which sank there about sixteen years ago, could be refloated.

Visiting the location of the wreck, the expert discovered the Japanese ship and many other wrecks on the sea bottom. He has a complete report on the salvage possibilities. There is a big treasure in iron, steel and other valuable materials at the sea bottom, he reports, and states it might be possible to salvage 60 per cent of the wrecked ships located.

British Seize Mail

HOBOKEN, N.J., April 17 (AP).—Seizure by British officials of westbound mail from the Holland-America Line's vessel Volendam was reported today by Captain Jan P. Wepster, master of the liner, which docked with 428 passengers, 351 of them German-Jewish refugees.

PLANE BREAKS THROUGH ICE

Yukon Southern Air Transport Machine Damaged —No Person Injured

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C., April 17 (CP). — The Yukon Southern Air Transport twin-motored Yukon Queen plane broke through the ice when it landed on Charlie Lake, near here, today.

The plane, piloted by Sheldon Luck, Edmonton, had just completed a flight from Vancouver. No person was injured in the accident and damage to the plane was not ascertained immediately.

VANCOUVER, April 17 (CP).—Officials at the Civic Airport here said tonight the Yukon Southern Air Transport twin-motored Yukon Queen, which broke through the ice when it landed on Charlie Lake, near Fort St. John, today, took off from here at 10 a.m. with six passengers, thirty-five pounds of mail and 100 pounds of express.

The plane's first stop was at Prince George.

Yukon Southern officials could not be reached immediately and it was not known at the airport whether any of the passengers had booked passage through to Fort St. John.

Crossed Pacific Under Charter to Japanese Concern

ASTORIA, Ore., April 17 (AP).—The new 14,150-ton Italian motorship Pietro Orseolo remained at anchor here today after an unannounced run in ballast across the Pacific.

The vessel crossed from Vladivostok in the fast time of twelve days, docking Monday. Under charter to a Japanese concern, she loaded fuel oil here before sailing to the South Seas for an undisclosed Japanese cargo.

The Pietro Orseolo was scheduled to sail yesterday afternoon, but had not departed this morning.

Ship Must Accept Pilot's Services When Offer Made

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 17 (AP).—Attorney-General Hamilton said today the steamship Griffco must accept the services of a pilot when a properly licensed pilot offers his services from Seattle to the northern boundary waters.

Hamilton was informed owners of the vessel, after discharging her southern coast cargo at Seattle, continued on to Vancouver, B.C., without the services of a state licensed pilot.

Millions do!

We moderns almost JUMP from bed to breakfast. Yet to get the quick release of fuel energy you need, your appetite must be awake!

That's why delicious* golden Kellogg's Corn Flakes, packed full of energizing "carbohydrate fuel," are the exactly right modern breakfast for these trying times! Make Kellogg's your appetite-rouser tomorrow, and every day. It's the cereal the whole family will prefer. Order several packages tomorrow. When eating out, ask for the wax-wrapped individual package. Made by Kellogg's, London, Canada.

KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKES WIN ON FLAVOUR!

"No one knows better than a dietitian the importance of tempting flavour," says Mrs. Mabel Robbins, Head Dietitian of the famous HONEY DEW restaurants. "So I was glad to make this impartial blind-fold test of all four brands of corn flakes. The sample I unhesitatingly chose for flavour was the sample which later proved to be Kellogg's Corn Flakes."

YOUR BREAKFAST MUST DO 3 THINGS . . .

1. No time nowadays to "work up" a breakfast appetite. Kellogg's Golden Corn Flakes are the modern breakfast! Their tempting flavour helps WAKE YOUR SLEEPY STOMACH!
2. To start the day at top speed, you need energy quick! A big bowlful of Kellogg's Corn Flakes—rich in "carbohydrate fuel"—is just what you need to help START YOU QUICK!
3. A breakfast with Kellogg's Corn Flakes and cream and sugar goes on releasing energy for hours — helps avoid that mid-morning slump. They HELP KEEP YOU GOING!

MARVELLOUS FLAVOUR, the result of a secret method known only to Kellogg's, is the reason why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the most popular ready-to-eat cereal in the world. They're economical, too! Have you tried the new family size package?

* Delicious! And no messy pots and pans afterwards . . . Is it any wonder that, when 2,000 housewives were asked in a recent coast-to-coast survey, "What ready-to-eat cereal is your family's favourite?" Kellogg's Corn Flakes were named FIVE TIMES as often as the next brand of corn flakes.
